HHH Leads In Popular Vote

Nixon Formulates Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, his narrow presidential triumph cemented by late election returns, chose the privacy of a Florida retreat today to start forming the new Republican administration he hopes will "bring the American people together."

Faced with the most pressing tasks of determining his immediate role in Vietnam peace efforts and picking the men who will guide the nation's destiny for the next four years, Nixon flew from New York to Key Biscayne, Fla., for what was billed as a few days rest.

On the way he stopped off for a sentimental visit in Washington with his hospitalized former chief, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As the tide of more than 70 million votes continued to flow in from outlying precincts, mainly in the West, Nixon actually trailed by 29,730,272 to 29,726,409 vote behind Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey in the 70-million-plus popular vote.

Invitation

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today invited President-elect Richard M. Nixon to visit South Vietnam "to make an on-the-spot assessment of the situation" in this country.

Cliff-Hangers

But his electoral vote total, securely past the needed total of 270 after cliff-hanger victories in Illinois, Ohio and California, appeared headed for 302 when late returns gave him the lead in Missouri where more than 100,000 absentee ballots will be decisive.

Absentee votes were also expected to decide Maryland where Humphrey was leading.

President Johnson returned to the capital from Texas for the 75-day homestretch of his presidency, pledging to Nixon "everything in my power to make your burdens lighter" during the transition period.

Earlier in San Antonio, the Texas White House said that, at Nixon's request, a government aircraft had been made available to him. He already has Secret Service protection.

Johnson also offered Nixon government office space in Washington, but the winner said he would continue to work out of his New York offices in the weeks ahead.

Cabinet Forecasts

Selection of a Cabinet, a White House staff and such other top aides as a budget director are among Nixon's first chores.

Detroit radio station WJR said Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who made a brief bid last winter for the GOP presidential nomination, probably will be Nixon's secretary of commerce.

The station also forecast that Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger of Los Angeles County "will become the next attorney general," and that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would be named "either as secretary of state or secretary of defense —most likely the latter."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, meanwhile suggested that Nixon name "a shadow cabinet to work with the present Cabinet to smooth the transition."

And the Montana Democrat, who will preside over a reduced majority numbering 58 of the 100 senators, said he would support Nixon "when he is right" adding "when we disagree, we'll oppose not just for the sake of opposition but will try to offer constructive alternatives."

Oregon Roll

One Senate race remained undecided, the Oregon contest in which Republican Robert Packwood was leading four-term veteran Sen. Wayne Morse. If Packwood's lead holds up, Republicans will have made a net gain of five Senators from their total in the outgoing 90th Congress.

In the House, the GOP gain was even smaller, a net of four in an election that saw only nine incumbents defeated, four in reapportioned districts where they were thrown in with other incumbents.

The new House will have 243 Democrats and 192 Republicans. But conservative southern Democrats could team with Republicans on many issues in both houses to give Nixon the equivalent of a slim working majority.

Chemetron Will Get Local Production

P&H Sells Welding Division But Keeps Escanaba Factory

Harnischfeger Corp. Executive Vice President Robert D. Teece today informed leaders of Local 632 United Auto Workers and then made public announcement that Harnischfeger had agreed to sell its Welding Products Division to Chemetron Corp. of Chicago.

Directors of the two corporations have agreed in principal to the acquisition by Chemetron of Harnischfeger's Welding Products Division for an undisclosed amount of cash and convertible preferred securities.

The Escanaba plant of Harnischfeger's Welding Products Division was not included in the transaction "because the loss of its personnel would not be conducive to achieving our long range growth objectives for the Harnischfeger Escanaba operation," said a statement by Henry Harnischfeger, president of the firm.

Effective Jan. 6

"This plant will continue as a part of the Harnischfeger Corp., and its primary function will be to manufacture and supply welding machines to Chemetron.

"It is in our individual and corporate best interests to continue our planned programs to raise our quality standards and productivity through improved methods. All of us have a vital stake in the future growth of the welding industry and must deliver to Chemetron our very best effort."

"The effective date of this transaction is expected to be Jan. 6, 1969. Until that time the Escanaba Welding Products Plant will continue as a part of the Harnischfeger Welding Products Division. After that date, the plant will continue, without interruption, under its present local management.

Union Approves

"The identity will be changed to 'Escanaba Electric Products Plant.' The manager of the Escanaba Electric Products Plant (Jack Williams) will report administratively to the office of the executive vice president (Teece.)

"We firmly believe that these decisions will offer increased opportunities for all personnel with the Welding Products Division," said Harnischfeger.

Ivan Brown, Iron Mountain, regional representative of the UAW International, said that the union regarded the change as enlarging the opportunity for employment and increasing job security at the Escanaba welder plant and that it especially appreciated advance notice of the change from Harnischfeger Corp.

Local 632's officials met with Harnischfeger officials headed by Teece, Edward Bruhns, construction equipment plant manager; Jack Williams, welding products plant manager, and Howard Fontaine, industrial relations officer, at the Pioneer Motor Inn this morning.

"The union," said Teece "accepted the change at its face value as an opportunity for growth.

Enlarges Market

Williams explained that the welding plant here now employs 150 persons including salaried personnel and that it will continue to make the same welding machines for Chemetron. "The design will be the same for some time at least," he said.

"Currently 40 per cent of our production is for private label (not sold under Harnischfeger label) and they go to such well known firms as Air Reduction Co., for its Airco Line, to Union Carbide Ltd., of Canada and to Linde Division of Union Carbide and others,"

Harnischfeger created its welding machinery business at Milwaukee and moved its welding machine operations to Escanaba in 1947. Its Welding Products Division now has about 600 employes and three of its manufacturing facilities are involved in the acquisition by Chemetron. They are the electrode and cored wire producing facilities in Monticello, Ind., and Leola, Penna., and the welding machines and power conversion equipment plants at Charlettesville, Virginia.

U.S., North Vietnam Dispute Ground Rules

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam disputed ground rules for the expanded Vietnam peace talks Wednesday. The talks were indefinitely suspended because of South Vietnam's refusal to participate.

At issue are differing interpretations about whether the bombing halt should include a cessation of U.S. aerial reconnaissance of North Vietnam and how the warring Vietnamese factions will sit at the table to talk peace.

Also hanging over the talks was speculation about what role, if any, President-elect Richard M. Nixon would take in the peacemaking process before his inauguration.

Hanoi's interpretation that the bombing halt should include suspension of reconnaissance flights was raised at a news conference at which Nguyen Thanh Le, North Vietnam's press spokesman in Paris, charged the U.S. flights violated the agreement that brought about the bombing halt.

North Vietnamese spokesmen and spokesmen for the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, also said the United States had agreed both the NLF and the Saigon government would send independent teams to the bargaining table.

Both interpretations were immediately challenged by sources with the U.S. delegation.

They pointed out that President Johnson had made no mention of reconnaissance flights when he announced the end of "all air, naval and artillery bombardment." They said the United States had let it be understood that it would abstain only from the use of force against North Vietnamese territory.

They noted that North Vietnam's chief negotiator in Paris, Xuan Thuy, used the same language—"all acts involving the use of force"—in his acknowledgement Nov. 1 of the bombing halt and his agreement to enlarge the talks.

They said the United States also told North Vietnam before the bombing halt that the reconnaissance flights would continue. A member of the North Vietnamese delegation has confirmed this in a talk with a newsman.

Le also raised the issue of how many parties would sit down at the peace table when he accused the United States of reneging on a pledge to hold a "four-party conference Wednesday to find a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem."

U.S. officials consider that the understanding was that there would be an "allied side" and a "Communist side" at the enlarged talks with the Saigon regime and the NLF participating as part of the two "sides."

The South Vietnamese insist they will send peace envoys to Paris only if the NLF sits as part of Hanoi's delegation, not as a separate entity. When Saigon balked, the United States refused to go ahead with the talks.

Romney A Possibility

LANSING (AP)— Richard M. Nixon's presidential election raised speculation today whether Gov. George Romney would resign his office to accept federal post in a Republican administration.

Romney has consistently scoffed at newsmen who attempt to probe his feelings on the matter. He stated Wednesday that he "may or may not" become part of Nixon's administration.

Nixon said after his nomination in August that "any administration that could get a man of his (Romney's) qualifications would be very fortunate."

The lone question remained what position, if any, Romney would be offered in coming weeks as Nixon screens individuals in selecting his cabinet.

During his Wednesday press conference, Romney added that "if Nixon doesn't pick the best possible cabinet he can pick, then my judgment of what he will do as president has been misplaced.

"That is what he said he would do and that is what I think he needs. And he's going to need plenty of help to deal with the problems both domestic and international," he said.

Shortly before beginning his fall campaign, Nixon said that he and Romney had "not discussed any specifics with regard to what he (Romney) would do" in a GOP administration.

The former vice president considers Romney very knowledgeable in urban affairs and reportedly feels the governor is an able administrator—twin talents that might prompt Nixon to offer the former automaker the post of Secretary of Commerce.

But Romney's luster may have been tarnished by Nixon's failure to carry Michigan in the presidential election and by the governor's refusal to back him for the nomination following Romney's withdrawal from the New Hampshire primary.

If the president-elect attempted to extract his pound of flesh, sources said, Romney could be offered only a distant ambassadorship.

Another ranking Michigan politician who could be considered for a Washington job is Emil Lockwood of St. Louis, majority leader of the state senate.

Wallace Effort Turned Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — George C. Wallace's third-party effort for the presidency appears to have played a substantial part in putting Republican Richard M. Nixon in the White House.

The votes he pulled in five key industrial states—California, Illinois, New Jersey, Ohio and Wisconsin—could have had the effect of nudging these states and their 121 electoral votes into Nixon's column.

Wallace appears to have pulled much of his support from blue-collar union workers. They usually support Democrats.

It is true that the five Southern states the former Alabama governor won were regarded as strong Nixon territory before Wallace came along but their electoral votes total only 45. So electoral votes Wallace took from Nixon in the South may have been far fewer than those he denied to Hubert H. Humphrey in the North.

Humphrey's Loss

Although the third-party candidate ran a weak third in their states, Democratic leaders in California, Illinois and New Jersey attributed the Humphrey's loss of their states' 83 electoral votes to the Wallace candidacy.

In Ohio and Wisconsin, with 38 electoral votes, politicians were less sure of Wallace's impact.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey said the results in his state were "a victory for Wallace and the hate vote, not a victory for Nixon over Humphrey."

Late, unofficial results put Nixon 54,000 votes ahead of Humphrey but Wallace polled some 253,000 votes.

Hughes said inroads by Wallace in Democratic strongholds such as Hudson, Middlesex, Passaic and Essex counties kept down Humphrey's pluralities.

'Nuisance Value'

In California, where Wallace polled some 481,000 votes while Nixon was ahead by only 221,000, former Democratic National Committeeman Eugene L. Wyman said Humphrey would have carried the state in a two-way race.

He said Wallace's votes were mainly in blue-collar and suburban areas, adding "It would have been difficult for these people to vote for Nixon."

But Leon Cooper, the new national committeeman and Humphrey's state chairman, disagreed, calling Wallace's vote "of nuisance value. It made the election closer, but that's about all."

In Illinois, where Wallace polled 336,000 and Nixon was leading by 74,000, William Flanagan of the All-Illinois Committee for Hubert H. Humphrey-Edmund S. Muskie said "Obviously the Wallace vote cut both ways, but also obviously it cut into the Humphrey vote more. It could have made the difference."

Canvass Begins On Illinois Vote

CHICAGO (AP) — The official vote canvass begins today in Cook County (Chicago) amid charges by both major parties that there was vote finagling in an election which gave Richard M. Nixon the presidency on the strength of Illinois' 26 electoral votes.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, who, as head of the Democratic party machinery in Illinois has sometimes been accused by his opponents of finagling with election returns, said Wednesday the official count "might show some interesting figures."

There were 109 unreported precincts in heavily Democratic Chicago and 84 in suburbs. It was generally conceded that these precincts with 400-500 votes each could not overcome Nixon's 135,502-vote plurality in Illinois over Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

With 95 per cent of the state's 10,694 precincts reported, unofficial returns gave Nixon 2,064,756 votes to Humphrey's 1,929,254.

HHH For Senate?

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Some Democratic leaders are already talking of a political comeback for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey—as the 1970 candidate for the U.S. Senate seat Eugene J. McCarthy says he will not try to retain in the party.

Speculation began almost as soon as his fight for the presidency was over, even as Humphrey left Wednesday for his lakeside home in Waverly to spend a few days in seclusion with his family.

Friends of the vice president say his commitment to the race for the White House was total and included no thought of defeat. And they say Humphrey has no plans for the future now.

Many observers who have watched Humphrey as mayor of Minneapolis, senator and vice president expect him to "go on to something else." They expect it to be the U.S. Senate.

In endorsing Humphrey for the presidency last week, McCarthy said he will not seek reelection to the seat as a Democrat. Although he didn't rule out running as a third-party candidate, state party leaders say they expect him to bow out.

Thus the way would be open for Humphrey to return to the job he left in 1964 when Lyndon B. Johnson chose him as his vice presidential running mate.

Although he lost the national election Tuesday, Humphrey got 809,070 votes in Minnesota or 54 per cent of the total. Richard M. Nixon got 42 per cent and George C. Wallace 5 per cent.

This happened in a state with a Republican governor, a congressional delegation dominated by Republicans and a state legislature controlled by the Republican - oriented conservatives.

One Hour Back To Conform To Wisconsin Time

By The Associated Press

Michigan clockworks will continually be switched back and forth with the seasons following narrow voter approval of daylight saving time for the state.

Delta County clocks, which were held on Eastern Standard Time when most of the state shifted hours Oct. 29 because of the election, will be moved back to Central Standard Time

Changing back to Central Standard Time will put all clocks in Delta County on the same hour, ending the confusion which has had some time pieces an hour ahead of others.

With more than 97 per cent of the votes counted unofficially, the tabulation of Tuesday's vote showed the proposal carrying by about 27,000 votes out of some 2.7 million.

The heaviest negative vote came from rural counties, while heavily populated areas generally favored the idea of setting clocks ahead one hour for six months out of the year.

Solves Problem

Besides providing an extra hour of summer sunlight daily for tourists and recreation enthusiasts, the vote should clarify confusion about what time it is in the Upper Peninsula.

The Delta County Board of Supervisors, which along with the City Council of Escanaba and Gladstone's Commission, urged people to vote "No" on the question, issued a statement in advance of the election that if the Michigan vote on the time issue is "Yes" that residents turn clocks back to Central Standard Time Sunday, Nov. 10.

Board members explained that changing clocks on Sunday will cause less confusion in the community than a mid-week change because of problems in shift changes, etc.

The Upper Peninsula voted "No" by a 57,940 to 50,653 total, but now must comply with the federal time act because of the statewide result.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Solomon Bienenfeld explained it this way:

The popular vote approved daylight time, thereby striking down a state law which exempted Michigan from the federal law calling for all states to observe "fast time" unless their legislatures decided otherwise.

Law Suspended

(Michigan did that, but daylight time proponents succeeded in putting the issue on the ballot by referendum and suspended the exemption law until the vote Tuesday.)

The state law also had stated that all of Michigan remained on Eastern Standard Time.

The federal government, meanwhile, ruled that the Upper Peninsula was in the Central Time Zone, one hour behind the rest of the state.

Confusion followed — with some parts of the U. P. abiding

U.P. Tourism Gets Cashier Inspection

Hugh Galusha, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, which serves a huge spread from Sault Ste. Marie through Montana, will keynote a conference on the development and financing of outdoor recreation in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin at the Holiday Inn in Marquette this evening.

Viewpoint

Most tourism meetings are called to raise money for promotional efforts in the tourist business.

The Upper Midwest Research and Development Council conference on tourism at the Holiday Inn, Marquette tonight and all day Friday is different.

It will look on tourism and the general subject of outdoor recreation not solely from the viewpoint of persons engaged in the business, but from the broader viewpoint of the community, which can benefit greatly from tourism expansion through public and private venture because its spending circulates widely in a recreation business area.

All day Friday there will be work sessions on various aspects of tourism development, especially from the view of the business community, with widespread participation from the two states and by specialists in the field from other states. The sessions will all be at the new Holiday Inn.

Public And Private

Sponsor of the conference is the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council, which has its headquarters in Minneapolis and which serves the Ninth Federal Reserve District as an economic research and development agency. The Council has been operating for years to stimulate the economy and has created the most definitive analysis of the area's economic problems and their indicated solutions.

It is now in the process of implementing the study findings in action programs and the sessions starting tonight will be sponsored by the Michigan and Wisconsin Executive Committee of the Council, headed by Ernest Ronn, Negaunee, of the United Steelworkers, chairman of the committee, who is presiding at the sessions.

Galusha will also open the Friday morning session at 9 a.m. with a discussion on the interests of both the private and public promoters of outdoor recreation planning and will summarize the conference findings at its close in the afternoon.

Program Headliners

From Rhode Island will come Adolph Schmidt to discuss state guaranty loans; from Milwaukee Arthur Lenroot to discuss private guaranty loans; from Estes Park, Colorado, one of the nationally known speakers and leaders in public developments, and the featured luncheon speaker, D. Ned Linegar; from Washington will be Robert Eastman of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to discuss federal recreation programs, and James Jeeve of the Small Business Administration to discuss procedures.

Regional responses will be by Richard J. Lewis, of Eau Claire, Wis., and Ted Gunderson of Superior, Wis.

Upper Peninsula persons on the program, principally from Marquette, site of the convention will be Ronn, chairman; Ben Myler, Marquette Chamber of Commerce president and Marquette Mayor Fred Rydholm, who will extend greetings; Robert Sayles, Newberry, president of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association; Jean Worth, Escanaba, and W. H. Treloar, Marquette, who will give Upper Peninsula regional responses and appear in panel discussions.

Indians Get Head Start

The quarterly meeting of the Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Agency Governing Board meeting Nov. 2 at the Sherman Hotel heard reports on the conference held in Marquette, "Understanding and Working with Impoverished Families", given by Mrs. Opal Peppiot and Henry Boyle of Bark River and Mrs. Richard Lucke of Daggett. A lively discussion regarding ways in which the public might get involved in working with the poor followed.

Program Coodinator Jimmy Bruce reported on the status of Head Start programs including the local project for educable retarded children. He also stated that remodeling of the Hannahville Tribal Council building had been completed and that a well had been drilled removing the last barrier for starting a Head Start program in that area.

A report was also given on the Neighborhood Youth Corps program which provides part time employment for needy students. The out of school portion of the program for youth out of school, for a year, but never having graduated is being implemented at the present time. Because of cutbacks in funds only ten work slots are available for the three county area.

Ray La Porte, agency director, reported the summer work experience program which was rated highly successful since 10 of 39 individuals obtained permanent employment. Of these, seven had been receiving social service benefits. Chairman Fred Hahne of Marquette presided at the meeting.

Briefly Told

Immunization clinic will be held Friday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Delta County Building.

State Police issued traffic citations Wednesday to Robert Pratsoh, Green Bay, Wis., speeding; Patricia Douros, Rapid River, speeding and no operator's license; Gary Michaeu, Kipling, speeding; Arnold C. Anderson, Wells, no operator's license.

Two motorists struck deer with their cars Wednesday, State Police reported. Mitchell Latvala, 18, Trenary, hit a deer on U.S. 41 in Masonville Township and Jack Peterson, 28, Quinnesec, hit a deer on U.S. 2 near Hermansville. Neither driver was injured, officers said.

Duplicate bridge will be held at 7:30 p. m., Saturday at the Elks Club. The public is invited.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to Gary A. Tolman, 1515 3rd Ave. , William R. Sullivan, 1000 S. 19th St., and Robert K. Case, Rapid River Rte. 3, all for speeding; Samuel H. Miller, 517 1st Ave. S., and Helen B. D'Amour, 813 4th Ave. S., both for failing to yield the right of way.

Sex Education For NMU Youth

MARQUETTE — Sex education, long relegated to back streets and more recently to the formal atmosphere of the classroom, is the topic of five informal lectures being presented to on-campus students at Northern Michigan University.

Titles of the lectures, scheduled for presentation every Tuesday night through Dec. 3, include "Basic Sex Information," "Dating and Marriage," and "Pregnancy and Childbirth." Subjects will range from venereal disease to the physiological aspects of pregnancy and childbirth.

GRAND OPENING FOR Consolidated Stations, Inc., new Escanaba gas station, 720 No. 21st St., will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The station, which opened for business last Friday, will be open "straight through" during the grand opening from 6:30 a. m. Friday to midnight Sunday, according to manager Eugene Smiltneck of 2214 26th Ave. S. The station is the third in the Upper Peninsula in Consolidated's 71-station chain. (Daily Press Photo)

Small Alaskan Lead For Nixon

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon held a 1,000-vote edge in Alaska Thursday as results from Tuesday's election continued to trickle in from isolated "bush" precincts and the state prepared to count about 7,000 absentee votes.

With a record 70,000 votes tallied, results from some 75 outlying districts and from Friday's absentee count will decide the allocation of Alaska's three electoral votes.

State election officials explained that severe radio interference had stalled returns from precincts that have no other way but by mail to report their results.

The latest count showed Nixon leading with 32,245 to Hubert H. Humphrey's 31,337. George C. Wallace had 8,623.

Even if Nixon carries Alaska, it will be a bitter victory for Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel, one of the President-elect's staunchest supporters. The same voters who elected Hickel and a predominantly Republican state legislature two years ago turned the tables Tuesday and gave control of the House to the Democrats. A GOP majority in the Senate was reduced.

The governor also was disappointed by voter rejection of an $18 million bond issue for the state ferry system, the subject of controversy since Hickel authorized purchase of a Swedish ferry liner. The federal Jones Act prohibits the ferry from carrying passengers between U.S. ports.

Moersch enlisted in July 1965 and after recruit training served one year aboard the USS Yosemite AD-19 at Newport, R.I. He then served one year in Saigon, Vietnam with the harbor defense unit there, before being assigned to his present ship.

Appeal Gifts Cheer Diocese

Although Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal volunteers may have been disappointed, Sunday, Nov. 3, when the Packers lost to the Chicago Bears, their spirits rose rapidly as reports of Diocesan Pledge Sunday came in from each parish.

The pledge total was nearing $508,000, from 7,364 gifts, out of 10,000 cards turned in, the Catholic Diocese of Marquette reports.

With more than 66% of the goal already assured, and thousands of homes still to be contacted during the week, volunteers were confident of surpassing the $750,000 figure in the final two weeks of this campaign.

Twenty-six parishes were already over their goals by the end of Pledge Sunday, with three more within $100 of the mark. Another 25 parishes had achieved at least two-thirds of their goal figure.

Bishop Charles A. Salatka said "the people of the Marquette Diocese are very generous, and their horizons of Christian involvement are as broad as their generosity."

Among the parishes over their Appeal goals as of Nov. 4, listed with their percentages:

St. Stanislaus, Goetzville, 214.9%.

Our Lady of Lourdes, Engadine, 202.7.

St. Frederick's, Daggett, 174.2.

St. Isaac Jogues, Sault Ste. Marie, 149.3.

Holy Trinity, Birch Creek, 134.8.

St. Mary's, Big Bay, 134.2.

St. Christopher's, Marquette 133.2.

St. Jude's, White Pine, 132.7.

In the Delta area those over the goal included St. Michael's, Perronville, 131, All Saints, Gladstone, 121.2. and St. Bruno's Nadeau, 106.6.

Chile's Heart Patient Dies

VALPAIRAISO, Chile (AP) —Marie Elena Penaloza, 25, Chile's first heart transplant patient, died today and a hospital spokesman said death was caused by a general brain infection.

Miss Penaloza received a new heart June 28 and appeared to be making an excellent recovery until last Saturday, when she complained of severe headaches.

Doctors operated Tuesday for what they said was a brain infection but Miss Penaloza never recovered consciousness.

Congratulations

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI congratulated Richard M. Nixon today on his election and said he prayed to God to guide him and to bestow peace and prosperity on the American people.

Expect Verdict In Auto Suit

A verdict in an auto negligence trial in Circuit Court was expected from a jury of seven women and five men today.

The jury received the case shortly after noon.

Plaintiffs are Glen and Lucretia Mosier, Rte. 1, Escanaba. Glen Mosier is asking damages of $18,221 and his wife is asking $9,541 from Roger and Mary Viau, Old State Road, as a result of an automobile accident on Aug. 26, 1967.

The plaintiffs claimed they were injured as a result of negligence on the part of Roger Viau, who was driving a pickup truck owned by his wife. The defendants claimed the accident was caused by mechanical failure in the truck.

The truck driven by Viau ran out of control across the center line of S. 23rd St., in the 300 block, striking the Mosier vehicle.

Trial began Monday before Judge Bernard H. Davidson. The Mosiers are represented by Attorney Clair Hoehn of Gladstone. Attorney James Fitzharris is representing the Viaus.

Old Dock Going Strong; Tonnage Tops 5 Million

The final season of operation for Chicago & Northwestern's old Dock No. 6 at Escanaba is adding up to an impressive climax to long years of service, with more than 5 million tons of ore already funneled through the structure built back in 1903.

The American Iron Ore Association reports that to Nov. 1 this year the North Western has moved 5,104,927 tons of ore at Escanaba, down slightly from 5,267,756 tons for the same period a year ago.

The October total at Escanaba was 535,388 tons, also below the tonnage for the same month a year ago, the report shows.

Spend $16 Million

For the past decade or more, the North Western's ore shipments at Escanaba have gone consistently over 5 million tons and sometimes topped the 6 million mark, with a growing percentage of the ore the new beneficiated or processed pellet ore. From a trickle of pellet ore about five years ago, the pellets now run about 60 per cent of the total, with the remainder the high grade natural ores.

Old No. 6 dock, built in 1903 and rebuilt in 1924 and annually repaired and restored, is coming down — to be replaced by a new conveyor type ore structure. The new dock is to be ready and in operation for the opening of the 1969 ore shipping season.

Construction of the new dock is well advanced and the old dock's outer end is already partly dismantled as the North Western pushes its $16 million program of ore handling development at Escanaba.

The new facility is an expression of the C&NW's confidence in a continuing future for the ore industry and the importance of Escanaba as an ore port.

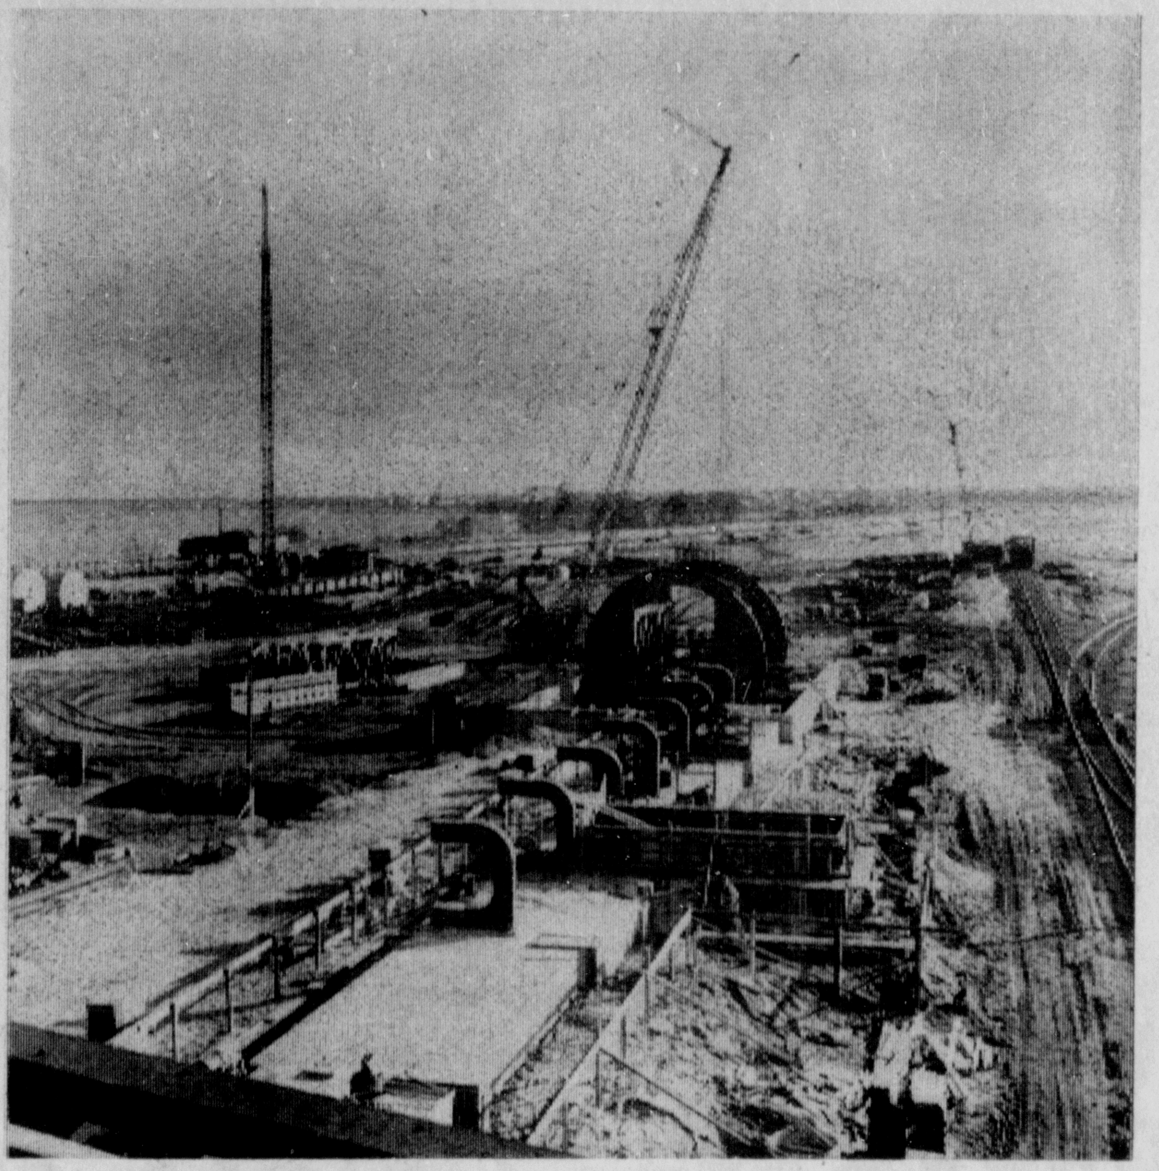
Razing Old Dock

The North Western has been transporting ore to Escanaba and loading it into boats for the trip to the steel plants for 104 years, with the first loadings in 1864 for a total of 31,072 tons.

As the only iron port on Lake Michigan, Escanaba had as many as six ore loading docks in the past. Greater mechanization and efficiency reduced the number of docks and increased their capacity, so that old No. 6 can handle as much ore this year as required two or more docks some 25 years ago.

The razing of No. 6 is in itself a major project, for the dock is 1,920 feet long, is 70 feet high and had a capacity of 80,000 tons of ore.

Few docks of the old "iron ore Gothic" style such as No. 6 remain, for they have been replaced by conveyor types. Marquette's Lake Superior & Ishpeming and the Soo Line ore docks are of the traditional type, and the total for both docks as of Nov. 1 was 5,888,699 tons.



FROM THE OLD DOCK the scene at the Chicago & North Western Railway ore handling facility is one of development and rapid change right now. Looking toward downtown Escanaba, the main feature in the center of the picture is the rotary car dumper, which will handle three cars at a time. From the dumper (a huge thing that required an excavation 50 feet deep) ore will run on the new conveyor dock to the ore boats. (Daily Press Photo)

Mrs. S. Cramer Dies Tuesday In Munising

Mrs. Emma S. Cramer, 86, of 614 W. Superior St., Munising died at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Munising Memorial Hospital following a six week illness.

She was born Oct. 25, 1882 in Neenah, Wis. and had resided in Munising since 1921. Mrs. Cramer was a member of the Eden Lutheran Church.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Henry Kathryn) Jacobson of Almeda, Calif., Mrs. Clarence (Helen) Peterson of Manistique and Mrs. Frank (Gretchen) Svehka of Gladstone; three brothers, George, Arthur and Herbert Blohm of Neenah and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. today at the Eden Lutheran Church and burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery, Neenah.

Hospital

Mrs. Myrtle Gentz of Portage Point, a patient at St. Lawrence Hospital, Lansing (Room 375-2) is receiving further treatment. She has been a patient there for about 10 days.

Blood Mobile Coming To Powers-Spalding

Blood donors in the north Menominee County area will have the opportunity to contribute to the Badger Blood Bank Dec. 3 when the unit visits the Powers-Spalding High School.

The unit will be there from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Raymond Fazer and Mrs. Raymond Casimir, co-chairmen of the program. Residents of Powers, Spalding, Hermansville and Wilson are asked to participate.

Persons 21 to 61 may donate blood while those 18 to 21 must have consent of their parents or guardian unless married or in the armed services. The quota this year is again 50 pints.

Canvassers Busy With Vote Tally

The Delta County Board of Canvassers started its work Wednesday at the County Building in Escanaba, was busily engaged today, and will probably continue through Friday before completing the canvass of votes cast in the Nov. 5 election.

"They will tackle the Community College trustee write-in balloting last," said County Clerk William Butler.

Meanwhile, of course, all of the reports of returns are unofficial in all of the voting in the county, but these are usually very accurate and no changes are expected.

City Vote Down

However, the situation with the Community College trustee balloting is another matter. There were no unofficial returns reported because of the enormous number of write-in candidates tallied in all precincts, and it will be left to the canvassing board to determine the trustee contest winners by official count.

The Board of Canvassers is composed of James E. Anderson, Soo Hill; Walter Manntie, Rock; Harry Buchman, Rapid River; and James A. Anderson of Bark River, whose wife is substituting for him in work on the board at this time because he was called out of the county.

The board is canvassing in the law library room in the basement of the County Building.

No percentage of voter turnout was available at this time for the county as a whole, but in the City of Escanaba it was surprising to find that the percentage of votes cast to the number of registered voters in the city was down slightly from four years ago.

Couldn't Wait

City Clerk Don Guindon said that in Tuesday's election 6,689 or 83.9 per cent of the city's 7,968 voters cast ballots. This was slightly less than the 85 per cent turn-out in the presidential election four years ago.

"Some people who saw the long waiting lines at the polls or were required to wait to cast their ballot said 'to hell with it'," Guindon reported.

"They just did not have the patience to stand in line or the time to spare or something, and thus didn't exercise their responsibility as citizens," he said. "This may account in part for the drop in the number of votes cast in the city."

The whole course of the election went well but slowly, he reported. Major factor in slowing the voting was the need to write in names in balloting for Community College trustees.

There were lines of voters waiting at most precincts when the polls closed at 8 p. m. At Precinct 6, for instance, the line was so long the last voter cast his ballot at 8:45.

Briefly Told

AMVETS Post 123 will hold a special meeting tonight at 8 p.m., in the AMVETS Hall, 1311 N. 21st St. This will replace the regular meeting scheduled for Nov. 14.

St. Anne's Holy Name Society is holding their 15th annual stag party Tuesday, Nov. 12, 8 p.m. until 12 midnight in the church basement. All Catholic men and their friends in Delta County are invited.

Word has been received that Rev. Merritt Kline, former pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Escanaba, died on Tuesday in Vancouver, Wash. He is survived by three daughters and two sons.

The National Guard will meet at the Armory in Gladstone Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 9 and 10, at 8 a.m. On Saturday the meeting hour is on Eastern Standard Time and on Sunday it will be on Central Standard Time. Saturday's session will be in the classroom and on Sunday at the rifle range.

Veterans Day:

Legion To Honor 50-Yr. Members

During any year, the observance of Veterans Day, Nov. 11, is of great importance to an American Legion Post, but the observance of Veterans Day, 1968, deserves even greater participation by the post and the community, Legion officials said today.

For Nov. 11 marks the 50th anniversary of the Armistice of World War I, the war which gave birth to the American Legion.

Cloverland Post No. 82 will observe Veterans Day with a banquet and a program Saturday, Nov. 9, at the Legion Club. Commander Roman Gill will conduct the meeting and C. Elmer Olson is general chairman.

The ladies of the Auxiliary will serve the dinner, family style, at 6:30, and veterans of all four wars, their wives and friends are invited. Make reservations early by calling C. Elmer Olson at 786-5654.

The 50 year members of the Post who will be honored are Victor F. Anderson, John L. Carlson, John P. Finn, James E. Frost, John Grenier, Emerson B. Harvey, Dr. Edward M. Hirn, Warren C. Horton, Michael B. Jensen, Bert Karas, T. F. Kessler and Ivan J. McCauley.

George J. Miller, Edward L. Moersch, Ralph R. Olson, Joseph Pillote, William F. J. Primrose, Xavier C. Boyer, William F. Shepeck, Roy T. Starrin, George W. Walters and Carl R. Wickman.

Tickets Ready For Musical

Tickets for the Escanaba Area High School Music Department production of "Brigadoon" will go on sale to the general public Monday.

Conrad Beck, vocal music director, said that ticket orders will be taken by members of the Area High School choir and also may be telephoned to his home, 786-1054, or the high school Music Department office, 786-7634, beginning Monday.

"No ticket orders will be taken through the high school general office," he said, "and anyone wanting to purchase a ticket in person at the school should come to the music department wing in F-Corridor."

Dates of the play are Monday, Dec. 2; Tuesday, Dec. 3; Thursday, Dec. 5, and Saturday, Dec. 7. All performances will be in the Area High School auditorium with curtain time 8 p. m.

Tickets will be sold on a first come, first serve basis. The auditorium seats 500 and all tickets will be for reserved seats, Beck said.

Previous musical productions by the Area High School Music Department have sold out rapidly. Last year, "Carousel" was sold out in four days after tickets were placed on sale.

Fund To Divide Record Gains

Investors Stock Fund, Inc. will distribute record fiscal year-end capital gains of $108,889,000 and a fourth quarter dividend from investment income of approximately $14,354,000, payable Oct. 31 to shareholders of record Oct. 29.

Harold K. Bradford, president, said the board declared a record capital gains distribution of $1.10 a share. The old record, at the end of fiscal 1967, was 49 cents per share. With the 4th quarter dividend on investment income of 14.5 cents per share, a total of $1.24.5 per share will be paid to shareholders at the fund's 1968 fiscal year-end.

Investors Stock Fund is one of five mutual fund companies for which Investors Diversified Services, Inc., which has an Escanaba office at 617 Ludington St., provides investment advisory services.

The President's Task

Richard Milhous Nixon is the 37th President of the United States by a whisker.

He lost by a whisker to John F. Kennedy in 1960 and now Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has lost to him by the same narrow margin.

The new President lacks a strong mandate of overwhelming election that sets a firm course for the administration. Fortunately he won enough electoral college votes to avoid election of the President by the House of Representatives, but only rather narrowly so.

* * *

He will administer a country which favors him only a little over his nearest opponent and which for the first time in years also gave substantial support to a third party candidate, former Governor George Wallace of Alabama.

Wallace's failure to make a stronger race and throw the election into the House is good news for America, but the size of support that he could muster for a simplistic program that promised "law and order" with strong undertones of Negro suppression by police state methods is disquieting. That Americans could support for their President a man with Wallace's record as governor of Alabama on his promise to relieve them of worries about city rioting and other lawlessness entrusting him with the direction of this greatest nation in a time of great difficulty and of very delicate world relationships is an indication of political illness.

* * *

Vice President Humphrey emerges from the campaign paradoxically enlarged in stature by his valiant effort to overcome his association in disaster with President Lyndon Johnson and reduced in image by campaign overtalk that clouded his political brilliance and abilities.

Richard Nixon ran a campaign whose slickness came near defeating him. The polls indicated that he was a far-out front runner and he declined to get into a donnybrook with Humphrey. His political savvy told him that the elements calling for him to commit himself would react to destroy him, but the timing of events was nearly fatal for him.

The nation still had more Democrats than Republicans and many of them appear to have returned to the flag in the late period of the campaign, rationalizing that it would be better for them to forgive the administration for Vietnam, the treatment of Senator McCarthy, the Chicago convention, the "credibility gap" at the White House and the general atmosphere of frustration in American than to switch.

* * *

Inherent in such voter outlook would be a fear to lose the social welfare gait that the Democratic administrations have attained and to enter a period of conservatism with a Republican administration which might retrench to put the brakes on inflation, which is now destroying the value of money at the rate of 4.2 per cent yearly.

Nixon's appeal is not to jolly goodfellowism and the late campaign rounds went to Humphrey. President Johnson's halt in the bombing of North Vietnam may have helped him, but it is difficult to assess the net result, although the great national hope for peace would inevitably be influenced by the bomb halt.

Having squeaked through without name calling, Nixon is in better position to move for peace in Vietnam. This action must top his agenda.

* * *

Other high priority items are curbs on inflation and a structuring of the national "law and order" effort so that it cracks hard at professional crime like the Mafia infiltration of legitimate business in this country, but works for a respect for law based on social justice and not alone on police muscle.

Both houses of Congress remain in Democratic control. The general outlook of the Congress is described as more conservative. This could be a blessing for the country if it is the caution of inflation control, but not if it is a coalition of stand-pat Northern Republicans and repressionist Dixiecrats.

It will be fascinating and, hopefully, encouraging to hear President-elect Nixon's cabinet choices as the first evidence of the kind of leadership he intends to create in Washington to solve national problems of large size.

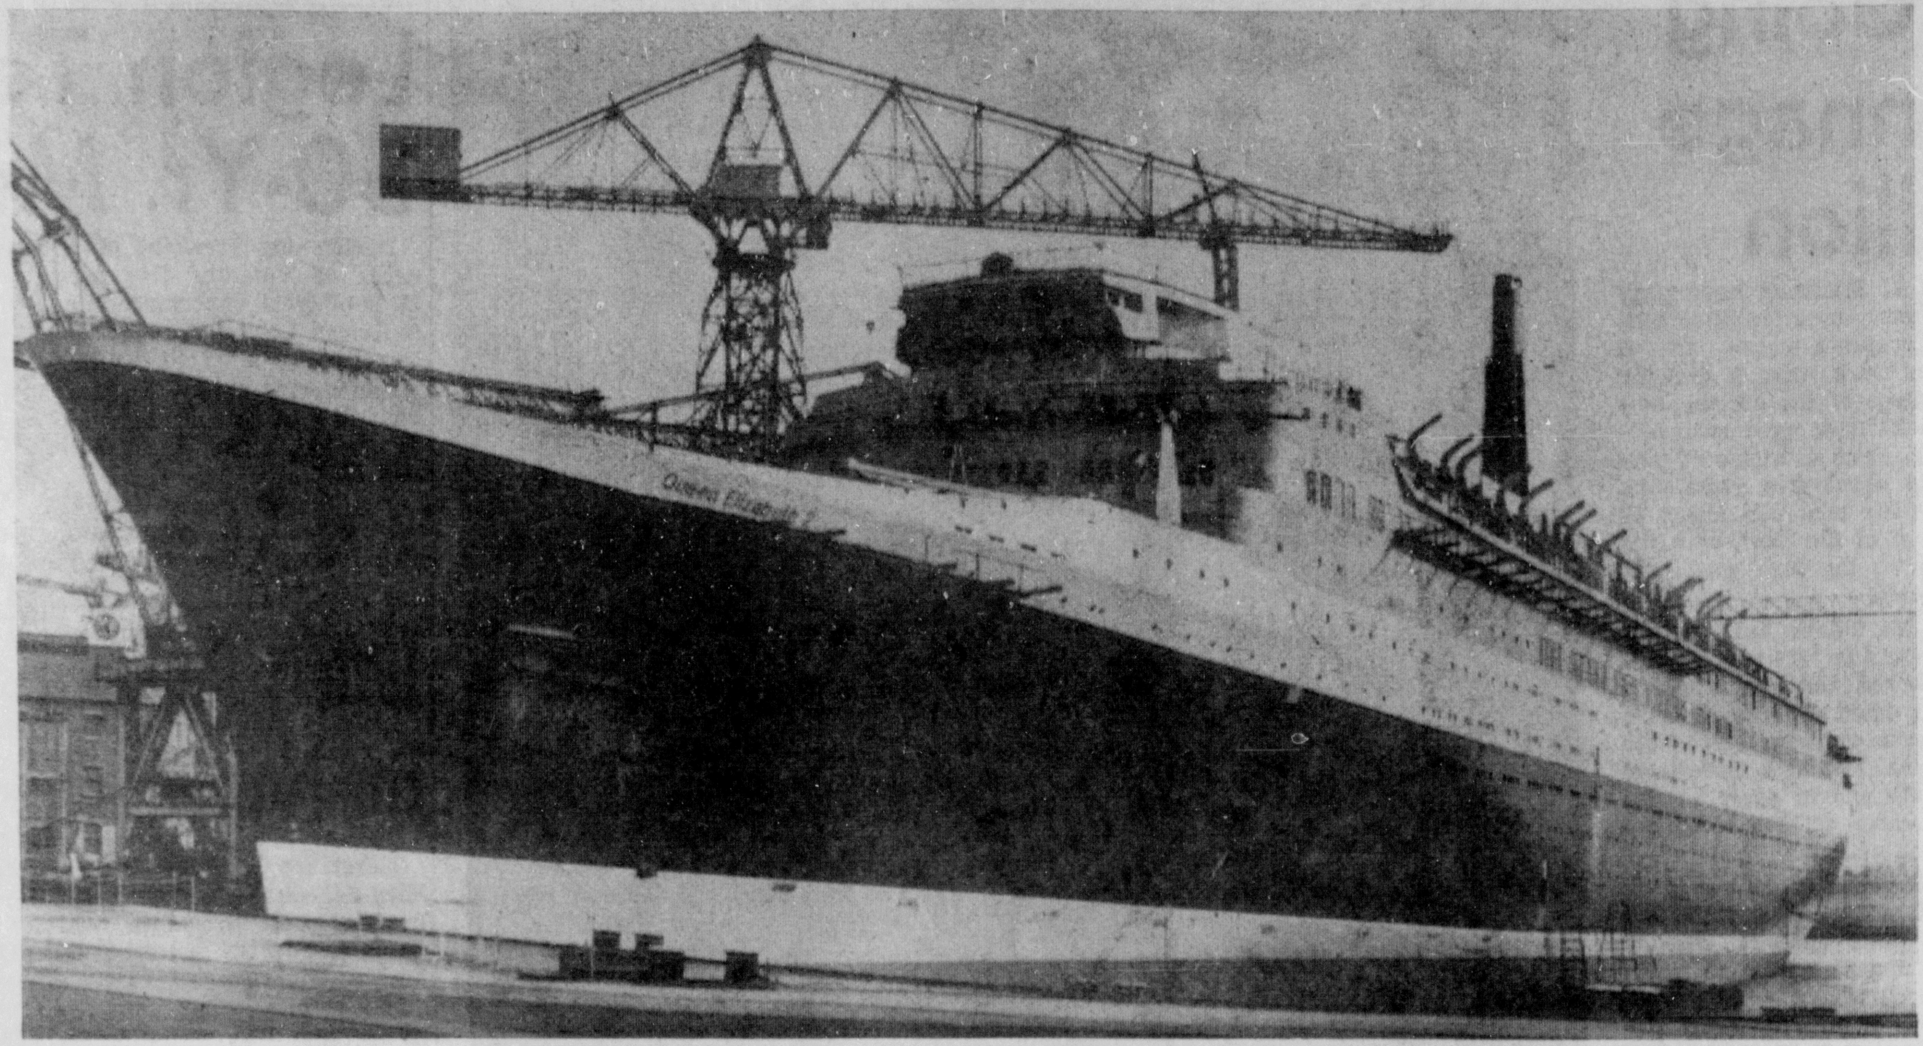
"Mom!—Dad!—What happened?"



Queen Elizabeth 2 Near Trials

CLYDEBANK, Scotland — In the almost pastoral setting of Scotland's River Clyde, Queen Elizabeth 2, the newest mechanical wonder of the world, is nearing completion.

Under construction since 1965, the 65,000-ton QE 2 will move under her own power for the first time in early December, when she undergoes builder's trials in the waters off Northern Scotland.

Between then and Jan. 17, 1969, when she leaves for North America on her westbound maiden voyage, she will have gotten her hull wet during the Cunard Line's acceptance trials and in two short cruises out of England.

The $72 million giant was conceived nearly 10 years ago. Her keel was laid July 5, 1965 and she was launched Sept. 22, 1967. Since then she has been in the final fitting-out stages at Upper Clyde Shipbuilders (formerly John Brown's), Clydebank, Scotland.

New Vacation Concept

In conception and construction QE 2 is intended to be what Cunard spokesmen describe as. "A totally new concept in vacations — more than just a ship — a magnificent seagoing vacationland with the added dimension of travel to faraway ports and romantic places."

QE 2 was built from the keel up for her role as a floating vacation ship. The design of every item of ship's gear, power plant, recreation and living accommodations has been planned to help her fulfill her destiny as both the most technically advanced and fun-filled vacation spot afloat.

Her design is based on efficient use of space — the minimum amount for service and power, the maximum for accommodations and holiday fun.

Her power plant is compact but powerful (110,000 shaft h.p.) to allow extra space for comforts and recreation. Queen Mary had 24 boilers; Queen Elizabeth 12; QE 2 has only three. While QE 2's are the largest on any merchant ship, overall they require less room. They supply power enough to drive her at the same 28½-knot speed as the famous Queens.

Two Propellers

QE 2 is the largest two-screw merchant ship afloat (most large ships have four). Special six-bladed propellers in the two-screw design provide needed thrust but save shaft, gear and engine space and thereby allow extra room for vacationing.

Her hull is steel, but her superstructure is made of 1,100 tons of aluminum. Light-weight metal construction high in the ship made it possible to add an extra deck on QE 2, for a total of ten for passenger use. This additional space allowed designers to place the restaurants in the upper decks so that passengers can watch the sea go by through large picture windows on either side.

QE was made big (963 feet long) so she could accommodate all the amenities that make up a floating resort and still give her ample speed. Her 65,000 tons makes her the second largest commercial ship in the world. Her size gives more cabin space per customer and enough speed to cross the Atlantic in five days.

Air Conditioned

QE 2 is completely air conditioned. Every passenger cabin has a room thermostat for individual setting.

The service areas, stairways, ventilation equipment, pipes and wiring were fitted into central areas of the ship, enabling more than three-quarters of the 2,025 passengers to have outside berths with portholes.

QE 2 has more entertainment space than any ship afloat. Three decks of public roms, restaurants, nightclubs, discotheques and bars are within the aluminum superstructure. One of these, the Double Up Room, is the largest public room in any ship. The threatre has 531 seats. There are two outdoor and two indoor pools. There are saunas and a Turkish bath. QE 2 has a shopping arcade that includes boutiques, gift shops and an art gallery.

She has more open deck space than any other ship, 130 per cent more than the Queen Elizabeth, the largest passenger ship currently in service.

The clipper-bowed QE 2 is scheduled to nose her way up New York's Hudson River for a maiden-voyage entrance at noon, January 30, 1969.

First Cruise

On her maiden westbound voyage QE 2 will leave Southampton on Jan. 17 and cruise to Le Havre; Las Palmas in the Canary Islands; Barbados; and Kingston, Jamaica before her arrival in New York. Her maiden eastbound voyage will commence on March 11 when she will leave New York for another southbound trip across the Atlantic via Barbados, Las Palmas, Madeira, Lisbon, and Le Havre to Southampton.

A unique feature of these maiden voyages is a highly flexible fly/cruise link with Pan American which enables passengers to join or leave QE 2 at one of the Caribbean ports. On the westbound crossing, for example, passengers may fly to Barbados or Jamaica via Pan Am and take the ship northward to New York.

On Feb. 1 the ship will leave for the first of three Caribbean cruises out of New York. The following two are scheduled to depart February 14 and March 1. Rates for these cruises begin at $415.

Arriving in Southampton on March 26 from her maiden eastbound crossing, QE 2 then makes a 14-day Easter criuse from the United Kingdom.

The regular North Atlantic voyages between Southampton and New York via Le Havre begin with a westbound sailing on April 18. Usually the ship will leave New York on alternate Thursdays and Southampton on alternate Fridays. Occasional calls in both directions will be made at Cobh, Ireland.

By the end of September, QE 2 will have completed twelve round-trip voyages. This program is integrated with French Line's France so that the two ships combined provide a weekly sailing in each direction.

Ann Landers

Smoked Too Much To Invite Her Back

Dear Ann Landers: Listen to this and tell me if I am crazy. A friend I had not seen in years came to visit me. I don't smoke but I've been around a good many smokers and it never bothered me much. This woman was something you have to see to believe. She was never without a cigaret between her lips.

When she talked, the smoke curled up and down and sideways, out of her mouth and out of her nostrils. She dropped ashes on her clothes, on the rugs, on the tablecloth—wherever she went there was a trail of cigaret butts. During every meal she puffed away while she ate — between bites. I never saw anything like it.

At night I couldn't sleep because I knew she was smoking in bed and I was scared to death she'd burn the house down. And then there was that incessant coughing and hacking. It made a nervous wreck of me. She'd turn blue and light another cigaret.

I have always been a fairly tolerant person but this woman and her cigarets got to me. When she hinted that she'd like to come back to visit next year, I told her I couldn't stand another visit because of her smoking. She said I was the craziest, most ungracious person she'd ever met. What do you think? — SMOKED OUT

Dear Out: I don't think you are crazy or ungracious. I think you were pushed beyond the point of endurance and you let her know it.

I feel sorry for your friend, however. She is addicted to tobacco as surely as a junkie is hooked on dope, and she could come to a very sad end.

* * *

Dear Ann: This is for the "comfortable but not rich" widow with the sick Cadillac. She was looking for a husband who knew how to keep up a car because she was "tired of the repair bills." Doesn't this woman know widows are A-1 targets for crooks? Apparently not, so I'd like to give her a few tips.

(1) Don't let a service station attendant do any major repair work on your car. They are not set up for it and 95 per cent of the gas pumpers are not qualified to repair anything.

(2) If something goes wrong, take your car to three or four places for a check. Let the mechanics explain the problem and ask how much it would cost to put the car in A-1 shape. When you find two mechanics who agree, pick one and stick with him.

(3) When a gas station attendant starts to tell you your car is "in terrible condition," pull out a notebook, write down what he says, and tell him you'll take it up with your mechanic. He won't pester you again.

(4) If you get stuck in the wilderness, have the car towed to the nearest Cadillac agency. If the car is new and you've got a lemon, insist that the man you bought it from give you satisfaction or write to Detroit. — WISED UP WIDOW

Dear Wised: I don't know who will love me the most —— the gas station attendants or Detroit. At any rate, your letter makes sense and I thank you for writing.

The simple way to play forcing two bids with a part score is to treat them as one-round forces. Hence, when North went to four spades, he was making a mild slam try. South was delighted to accept the invitation, even though North's two no - trump response had not been encouraging.

West's queen of clubs was allowed to hold the first trick. The suit was continued and South played low from dummy a second time. South was sure that East held the ace of clubs and wanted to keep dummy's king of clubs to exert pressure against East.

He ruffed the second club and ran off three rounds of trumps. Then he played out his ace and queen of diamonds.

When East discarded a club on the second diamond, South, who was something of a show-off, spread his hand and claimed his contract. He remarked, "It was a mighty good slam contract. If West held the club ace or if diamonds broke evenly, it would have been a laydown. As it is, there is an automatic three-suit squeeze for it."

South was right. When the defenders refused to concede, he led out his last two spades. He discarded hearts from dummy. This left North with the king and one diamond, the jack of hearts and king of clubs. West had to come down to two hearts in order to protect his jack of diamonds, while East held onto three hearts and the ace of clubs.

Then South led a diamond to dummy's king. West had already been squeezed out of heart protection. Now East was squeezed in turn because he had to hold onto the ace of clubs and South's deuce of hearts produced the 12th trick.

Vatican Comments On Jackie's Marriage

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican publication said today that Jacqueline Kennedy's marriage to Aristotle Onassis did not excommunicate her from the Roman Catholic church but was "in effect a renunciation of her own faith."

The comment appeared in the weekly L'Osservatore della Domenica. It was the first comment on the wedding to appear in a Vatican publication and in essence repeated what the Vatican's chief press officer, Msgr. Fausto Vallainc, said earlier.

The paper did not mention Mrs. Onassis' name, but it obviously was talking about her.

The comment was in reply to a "reader" who asked: "Is it true that one of the principals in a recently publicized event has been excommunicated"

"News that speaks of excommunication is not accurate," said the reply, explaining that since 1966 excommunication has not been a penalty in such cases.

"However, let there be no misunderstanding," the comment continued, "even if such a severe penalty has not been inflicted, the conduct of the Catholic party can not be honestly considered immune from ecclesiastical punishment as well as justified deploration. Contracting a marriage with a divorced man already linked by a previous marriage bond implies for the Catholic party the assumption of an attitude which is in effect a renunciation of her own faith."

The paper said canon law considers Mrs. Kennedy "a public sinner" who, though not excommunicated, is denied "certain rites considered by the Church as vital signs of communion and of absolute adhesion to the Church's doctrine and laws. . ."

Experts on canon law say a public sinner is denied all sacraments, including a church burial and communion. Attending Mass is still permitted.

The paper's comment held the door open for future change in Mrs. Onassis's status, saying that when her condition of public sinner gives way "to penitence and redemption the Church opens without parsimony the treasures of divine mercy.

"But while the prodigal child is far away, the Church, like the father of the evangelical parable, waits anxiously and in suffering for the time when the church can explode with joy over the vision of homecoming."

Appeals Fail To Get Action

DETROIT (AP) — "Nobody would listen," 22-year-old Judy Yokes said emotionally Wednesday as she recalled frantic, vain attempts to get her soldier-brother an assignment close home to care for his sick, widowed mother.

Army Spec. 4 Frank J. Yokes, her 21-year-old brother, died in Vietnam last Saturday from wounds inflicted by enemy small arms fire as he fought to help out a Marine detachment near Saigon.

"The draft board, the Army and others were quite sarcastic about the situation," Miss Yokes said of efforts to have the family's only son stationed near home.

"We were told," she said, "that he'd have to go to Vietnam because they said he didn't have a brother over there and because I could stay home and help my mother.

"And that was after more than 50 telegrams had gone to Washington from relatives and others who understood the circumstances."

Miss Yokes is an illustrator for the Fisher Body division of General Motors Corp. She has no sisters. Her father died five years ago and her mother has had a heart condition and other illness much of her life, the daughter said.

"Last July, before he was sent to Vietnam," she said, "we requested a 're-compassionary assignment' close to home.

She said Rep. Jack H. McDonald, D-Mich., a long-time neighbor in suburban Redford Township, reported there was nothing he could do.

She also said that a letter from Mrs. Yokes' doctor and appeals to Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., also came to naught.

As a sole son, Yokes had been told when he was drafted in August, 1967, that he would not be given frontline duty, Miss Yokes continued.

But after a short assignment in Munich, Germany, and brief stints at bases near Detroit—because his mother was in a hospital—Miss Yokes said her brother was sent to Vietnam as a member of the First Cavalry.

"The day after the bombing was stopped over North Vietnam— that's when he was killed," she said in a shaky voice. "He didn't protest being drafted because he thought it was his duty to serve, although he never understood why he was fighting in Vietnam.

"I can't blame anybody for what's happened," she sobbed, "but it seems that a sole surviving son shouldn't have to go to war. There's just no one else to carry on the family name."

Virgin Islands Rest; Agnew

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew plans to spend the rest of the week clearing his desk of the paper work that has been accumulating since his campaign began, then to take some time off in the Virgin Islands.

The Maryland governor told a small group of party faithfuls Wednesday afternoon when results of the 1968 election finally crystallized that "today is a time for celebration and rededication.

"Let all Americans share in this moment of rededication by rejecting partisanship and repudiating extremism," he said.

"The goal is not to destroy, but to create a better America.

"Now the time of competition is past and the time for cooperation begins. I welcome this moment when we begin the very real task of reuniting America with fresh vision under new leadership," he said.

Two Men Given Life Sentences

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two men convicted of second-degree murder were sentenced to life imprisonment and one charged with manslaughter to 10 to 15 years Tuesday by Circuit Judge Claude VanderPloeg.

Eugene Tubbs, 20, a Marine convicted of choking his girlfriend, Rosie M. Hardges, 17, to death and Gerald LaGrow, 28, formerly of Cadillac, convicted of fatally stabbing his 91-year-old landlady, Mrs. Nellie Markham, drew the life terms.

Gerald Erickson, 28, of Ravenna, was sentenced for manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of his father-in-law, Benedert Mellema, 70.

Book Two For Novarro Murder

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two brothers from Chicago - one of them a teenager — were arrested Wednesday and booked on suspicion of murdering former silent screen star Ramon Novarro, whose nude body was found in his posh Hollywood home Oct. 31, police said.

Officers said Paul Robert Ferguson, 22, and Thomas Scott Ferguson, 17 were being held at the North Hollywood police station.

Police Lt. G. W. Lauretzen said the brothers were arrested without a struggle in Bell Gardens — Paul at a restaurant and Thomas at the home of a friend, where he was staying.

The officer said Paul Ferguson had come to Los Angeles from Chicago about five months ago and that his brother arrived about three weeks ago.

Lauretzen said the probe into the 69-year-old Novarro's bludgeon death turned up the brothers' names "and we centered our investigation on them. After checking out the physical evidence we decided we had enough of a case to ask for indictments."

The body of Novarro was found by his male secretary in the former screen idol's $150,000 Laurel Canyon home. Officers said Novarro's head and upper body were badly beaten and that there were signs of a fierce struggle at the house.

Veep Candidate Disappointed

By The Associated Press

Larry Hochman, a physics instructor at Eastern Michigan University and the New Politics party's vice presidential candidate, expressed disappointment Wednesday that the party received less than one per cent of Michigan's popular vote.

"It would have been nice to get enough votes to stay on the ballot without having to petition again," Hochman said.

Eldridge Cleaver, a 33-year-old Californian who was not permitted to leave his home state to campaign because of conditions set down by his parole board, was the party's presidential candidate.

"Our main pitch was not to get votes," Hochman said, explaining that the party's importance was to make groups aware of problems in our society.

With 93 per cent of the precincts reporting, the Cleaver-Hochman team received an unofficial tally of 4,008 votes.

Hochman added that he was unsure whether he would accept the vice presidential nomination again.

Death Explanation In Broken School Windows

UTICA (AP) —Because three schoolhouse windows were broken, it is believed, a 47-year-old mother and her four youngest children died.

Victims of carbon monoxide poisoning Tuesday in a car parked in the garage of their attractive Shelby Township home were Mrs. Rosaleen McGee and these of her eight children: David, 12; Dennis, 9; Deborah, 7, and Michael, 6.

Authorities said Mrs. McGee was described by people who knew her as a conscientious mother deeply concerned about her children's behavior.

Saved Money

Gerald D. Black Sr., principal of Disco Elementary School, said Dennis, Debbie and Michael had admitted Monday breaking three windows in the school over the weekend.

"Dennis said he'd saved some money and would pay for them," the principal recalled, adding that the three were "delightful children" and saying he wasn't overly upset by the breakage.

"I called Mrs. McGee on the phone. She'd called me earlier. She was concerned with the general behavior pattern of the children. "I wasn't unduly concerned when they didn't show up for school (Tuesday), because their attendance had been so good. I had suspected the window incident was why she kept them home."

David, who attended Shelby Junior High that morning, had returned home for lunch.

Found By Father

Police Detective Glen McAlipine of Shelby Township said Mrs. McGee left a note saying she was despondent, but one of her two married daughters insisted there had been no signs of tension only three days earlier.

The bodies of the five were found by William McGee, the father and husband, a truck driver. He returned about 2 p.m. from a trip to Pennsylvania. Police believe the deaths occured about two hours earlier.

Policeman Donald W. Campbell, an investigating officer, said a garden hose had been connected with the car's exhaust pipe and run through a window and laid across the back seat.

The mother and David were in the front seat; the others in the back.

Edwards At 28 Is Impressive

DETROIT (AP)—A recent law graduate from Wayne State University rolled up an impressive statewide vote total Tuesday to win one of two seats up for grabs on the board of governors of his alma mater.

At the age of 28, Democrat George C. Edwards III racked up a wide enough margin over his nearest Republican opponent to put his Michigan vote-drawing power in the same league as that of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Although he lost nationally to Richard M. Nixon, Humphrey garnered 1.6 million Michigan votes, taking the state by 255,000 over the GOP standard bearer.

Edwards, occupying a somewhat less noticeable spot on the state ticket in his race for WSU board of governors, inspired enough voter interest to take 1.5 million votes and beat his nearest Republican opponent by 229,000 votes.

"In the first place, I have a good name," Edwards said, listing the reasons for his successful first foray into Michigan politics. "My father spent 25 years in public service and has spect of many people for the name of George Edwards. I hope to live up to that respect."

Edwards' father, now Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judge, has served in a number of public capacities, including that of Detroit police commissioner.

"Another overbearing factor in my victory is the fact that Hubert Humphrey carried the state so overwhelmingly," Edwards added.

"Lastly, I did campaign hard all over the state for better than two months."

Edwards' campaign took him as far north as Marquette. He estimates he drove over 10,000 miles throughout the state. At the same time, he held down a fulltime job as an attorney with the Wayne County Defenders Officers, which represents indigents accused of felonies.

What does the nonpaying job of WSU governor mean to Edwards?

"It's not the pad from which one launches a spectacular leap, but it's a beginning," he says.

Graduated Tax Loses Soundly

DETROIT (AP) — A constitutional amendment that would have allowed Michigan to impose a graduated income tax was defeated soundly in Tuesday's election.

By a 3-1 margin, voters rejected the proposal which would have made it legally permissible for local units of government, including school districts, to impose a flat rate or graduated income tax.

Individual residents already paying a 2.6 per cent state income tax on a flat-rate basis, and some cities have imposed an additional tax of their own.

The Citizen Research Council of Michigan said that under the amendment 83 counties, 522 cities and villages, 1,254 townships, 110 special districts and 935 school districts could be defined as units of local government.

"There is a very significant legal question, however, as to whether the proposed constitutional amendment would have granted these subdivisions the self-executing power to impose such taxes," it added.

Defeat of the proposal appeared to end for the time being a long-standing controversy over the issue of a flat-rate vs. graduated-rate tax which has raged for years.

Russians Can't Find Any Caviar

MOSCOW (AP) — Surprising as it may sound, the average Russian rarely can find a store selling one of his country's most famous products—caviar.

He'll be lucky if he can buy a jar of the traditional holiday delicacy to serve during the biggest holiday of the year, Thursday's anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

There is a growing shortage of caviar, so almost all of it is reserved for the valuable export trade, and only limited supplies are released to Soviet citizens before holidays.

Now even these limited supplies are threatened, as the number of caviar-producing sturgeon continues to dwindle.

The fish which produces the black eggs so prized by gourmets has been hurt partly by pollution of the Caspian Sea and the Volga River, which flows into it.

The problem is so critical that last month the Soviet government issued a decree ordering the installation of antipollution shields on all offshore oil installations in the Caspian Sea and the creation of water purification staitons at 100 industrial enterprises in the area.

The decree made the northern part of the Caspian a fish preserve.

In addition to the problem of pollution, sturgeon are threatened by a drop in the level of the Caspian Sea. The drop has disturbed some breeding grounds in the Volga's delta, and also has made it more difficult for upstream spawning sturgeon to enter the Volga for their long trip north.

Soviet scientists say the Caspian's level has dropped about seven feet since 1931, and is now at its lowest in 1,500 years.

The drop is attributed partly to long-range shifts in climate, but nature is not the only one to blame. Men have reduced the amount of water flowing into the Caspian from the Volga and other rivers by building dams and by draining off river water for drinking, industrial use and irrigation.

Soyuz 3 Only Orbital Craft

MOSCOW (AP) — The president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, Mstislav V. Keldysh, said today the Soyuz 3 spacecraft tested by cosmonaut Georgy T. Beregrovoy last week is intended only for earth orbit missions, not a trip to the moon.

Keldysh did not make clear whether the Russians must await a new type of spacecraft for a manned moon mission or could use a modified form of the Soyuz.

Asked at a news conference on the flight of Soyuz 3 and the unmanned sister ship, Soyuz 2, when a Soyuz would take a man to the moon, he said it is "an orbital craft" only.

Beregovoy, who flew in orbit for almost four days, was asked if several Soviet spaceships would be linked up in earth orbit to form one huge craft for a manned trip to the moon or planets.

Beregovoy replied cryptically: "This can be done."

A Western diplomat and science expert interpreted the reply as a possible hint on the next Soviet step in space.

Such plans are never announced in advance.

Auto Dealers Not As Enthusiatic As Automakers

DETROIT (AP) — With U.S. auto sales booming, new car dealers apparently are not as enthusiastic as might be expected, according to a random check by The Detroit Free Press.

Domestic automakers sold 885,358 cars last month for the best October in the industry's history as total sales for the first 10 months came to 7,183,363. Several auto executives have predicted sales this year would surpass the record of more than nine million set in 1965.

A consensus of dealers contacted by the Free Press indicated that the potential selling power of the 1969 models has yet to be tested mainly because manufacturers have not solved a traditional headache—not enough cars in retail showrooms shortly after introduction of the new models.

"Already I am telling Chrysler and Imperial customers they will have to wait eight to 10 weeks," lamented Bill O'Shaughnessey, a Lansing Chrysler-Plymouth dealer.

"The shortages are not in any particular models," said L.C. Geisler, who is associated with a Madison, Wis., Pontiac dealership. "It just seems that the public wants what you haven't got in stock, and what you have got, they don't seem to want."

Of those interviews, not a single dealer said that the industry-wide price increase had any effect on sales so far.

Assailant Stabs Billy Daniels

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Daniels, the Negro singer who gained fame with his rendition of "That Old Black Magic," was stabbed in the back Tuesday night while performing at the Latin Quarter nightclub.

Police captured a man they identified as the assailant several minutes after the stabbing.

As 75 patrons looked on, police said, the man, also a Negro, rushed up on stage, forced Daniels to the side of the stage and stabbed him twice in the back with a switchblade knife.

Daniels, 62, was reported in satisfactory condition at Roosevelt Hospital where he remained overnight for observation.

Charged in the stabbing is Theodore Harmon, 43, of Manhattan. Police quoted him as saying Daniels "is a friend of mine and owes me money."

Police said that when they arrived at the nightclub several patrons crouched behind their chairs or held their chairs up to protect themselves.

The stabbing was not Daniels' first brush with violence.

In 1957, Daniels lost his New York City cabaret license in the aftermath of a 1955 shooting in Harlem bottle club. Daniels pleaded guilty to criminally possessing a gun in connection with the shooting.

Detroit's Pension Proposal Passes

DETROIT (AP) — A fiercely debated charter amendment on police and firemen's pensions was passed Tuesday by Detroit voters, after a barrage of criticism was leveled at campaign tactics of uniformed men and others who had opposed the amendment.

City officials said the charter change would save Detroit money by prohibiting police or firemen hired after Jan. 1 from retiring before age 55 and would base their pensions on two per cent of salaries for each year of service, with an annual two per cent cost-of-living increase. Police and firemen now may retire after 25 years service with no age limitation, and they receive 50 per cent of their final year's salary plus 50 per cent of all pay raises given to active police and firemen.

With all 1,111 precincts reporting, voters okayed the amendment 215,939 to 195,386.

The Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission cited literature of a group opposing the amendment, warning against use of the words "cheat, lie and stealing" in the literature.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh warned police against displaying bumper stickers on police cars opposing the amendment.

Nixon Could Collide With Demo Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a pledge from Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to support Richard M. Nixon "when he is right", the incoming Republican president could collide early with the still Democratic Congress.

A likely point of early contention could be the use of tax credits, rather than programs depending on appropriations, to finance social objectives.

Another test of both presidential and congressional intentions will come when the new, but not much changed, Congress goes to work in January on the budget prepared by President Johnson.

If he recommends full funding of the programs associated with his and the previous Democratic administration instead of the pared-down appropriations Congress has voted in the past, Nixon will be under pressure to show quickly to what extent he intends to economize.

The GOP made a net gain of four seats, but still winds up on the short end of a 243-192 lineup in the House.

GOP Gain

In the Senate, Republicans gained four seats and possibly five depending on the outcome of the Oregon race where liberal Wayne Morse trails in a fight for political survival.

Records of newly elected senators, however, indicate that chamber may have a slightly more conservative tone than in the 90th Congress where the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition was a major force.

Democrats in both chambers will continue to hold committee chairmanships.

Mansfield pledged Wednesday that the Senate's Democratic majority will not oppose Nixon's recommendations to Congress "just for the sake of opposition."

"He's the winner, the people have expressed their will," Mansfield said.

"We'll give him our loyal support when he is right," Mansfield told a reporter. "When we disagree, we'll oppose not just for the sake of opposition but will try to offer constructive alternatives."

Same As LBJ

This was the position Johnson took when he was the Senate Democratic leader during the Eisenhower administration. The Democrats controlled the Senate and the House during all but the first two years of Eisenhower's eight years in the White House.

Nixon—and the Republican platform—advocated tax credits especially for dealing with problems of the city poor and unemployed.

Rather than programs like the Democratic-inspired Job Corps, they would abate taxes for businesses willing to hire and train workers with low skills.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee is an outspoken opponent of tax credits and in general of using the revenue to achieve nonfiscal purposes.

Less than a month before the election, Mills denounced such plans as "back door spending," saying they could cost billions more than appropriations for the same purposes.

Other areas of possible conflict include the Vietnam war, defense spending and the income surtax.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., continues as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Fulbright, a consistent opponent of President Johnson's Vietnam War policies, presumably would rally opposition to any toughening of this policy by Nixon if the Paris peace discussions come to nothing.

Viet Casualties Up Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam rose slightly during the week before the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, the U.S. command reported today.

U.S. Headquarters said 150 Americans were killed in action during the week of Oct. 27-Nov. 2 a reporting period that included only 27 hours of the bombing halt which went into effect at 9 p.m. last Friday.

But the bombing halt is likely to have little effect on U.S. casualties since the American command says it will pursue the war as vigorously as ever in South Vietnam.

Two weeks ago, 109 Americans were reported killed in action, and the week before the toll was 100. During the last three weeks in September American deaths exceeded 200 each week.

South Vietnamese casualties also were up slightly, with 129 soldiers reported killed last week compared with 103 the previous week.

The allied commands reported 1,393 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week and increased the previous week's toll of the enemy from 1,289 to 1,995 killed.

U.S. headquarters accused the Viet Cong of continuing "indiscriminate" mortar and rocket attacks on cities and towns. New shelling was reported against two towns and a village on two sides of Saigon, with an expectant mother killed and seven other civilians wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 16 mortar, rocket and artillery attacks on provincial and district capitals since the bombing halt, with 47 civilians wounded and one killed.

Stocks Lower Early Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined irregularly in moderate trading early Thursday.

Losses outnumbered gains by about 100 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

Steels resumed their retreat amid news of spreading price cuts for hot rolled sheet which accounts for about 11 per cent of the industry's business.

The major automakers were generally higher. Aerospace issues were irregular.

Parke, Davis took an early led as most active stock when it traded on a huge block of 230,000 shares, up ⅛ at 27. It improved the gain in later dealings.

IBM snapped back a couple of points in a routine move for this high-priced stock.

Record Price For Stradivarius

LONDON (AP) — An amateur musician today paid $52,800 for a Stradivarius violin at Sotheby's. The auctioners said the price was a world record.

The violin was bought by British businessman Jack Morrison who will play it himself.

The previous record price for a violin was paid for another Italian instrument on July 4, 1966. That was a Guarnieri and it fetched $31,200.

The instrument sold today once belonged to the famous Italian violinist and composer Giovanni Battista Viotti (1754-1824).

U. N. Admission

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — The Security Council unanimously approved Equatorial Guinea's request for admission as the United Nations' 126th member Wednesday.

Equatorial Guinea gained independence from Spain Oct. 12 after 190 years of colonial rule. It comprises the former territories of Rio Muni on the West African mainland, the island of Fernando Poo and other smaller islands off the African coast, with a population of 250,000.

GOP Will Hold Governor Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six of the seven biggest states will have Republican governors next January, with the GOP holding a 31 to 19 edge nationwide—the party's biggest majority since the first years of the Eisenhower administration.

In all, Republicans will replace Democratic governors in seven states and there will be Democrats in place of Republicans in two others—for a net GOP gain of five.

Ironically, the Republican presidential victory Tuesday will eventually put another statehouse in the Democratic column. Maryland has no lieutenant governor and the successor to Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, vice president-elect will be named by the Democratic-controlled legislature.

The election of Richard B. Ogilvie puts Illinois in Republican hands along with New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan where governors were not up for re-election. Texas, which elected Lt. Gov. D. Preston Smith to succeed retiring Gov. John Connally, is the only one of the most populous seven to have a Democrat as governor.

Besides Ilinois, states that switched from a Democrat to a Republican are Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, New Hampshire, Vermont and West Virginia. Montana and Rhode Island went from a Republican to a Democrat.

Otherwise, the parties had an even split Tuesday. Arizona, New Mexico, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin and Arkansas, returned Republicans to the governor's mansion. Kansas, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, and Utah joined Texas in retaining Democrats.

tries. Its sales in 1967 were $230 million.

It has 7,700 employes in the United States compared with about 6,000 for Harnischfeger, and about 1,600 in foreign subsidiaries and 13,000 stockholders.

Chemetron Corp. is 35 years old. The industrial gas properties of Keith Dunham Co. were brought together in a new corporation in 1933 which later was named National Cylinder Gas Co. In 1958 the name was changed to Chemetron Corp. The name was chosen because its incorporates parts of the words "chemicals," "metals," and "electronics," three of the major industrial fields this corporation serves with a wide variety of products and services.

Expands Line

Chemetron Corp. had headquarters offices at 840 N. Michigan, Chicago, Ill., 60611 and its major divisions include: National Cylinder Gas, Cardox, Holland - Suco Color Co., Chemetron Chemicals, Allbright-Nell Co. (meat processing equipment) all of Chicago; Alloy Rods Co., York, Penna.; Girdler Catalysts, Louisville; Northwest Chemical Co., Detroit; Organic Chemicals, Wilmington, Dela.; McGean Chemical Co., Cleveland; Tube Turns, Louisville; Pennsylvania Forge, Philadelphia; Votator, Louisville.

"This acquisition of Harnischfeger Welding Products Division puts Chemetron into the business of manufacturing welding machines and wire feed mechanisms which its National Cylinder Gas Division previously only marketed, and adds mild steel and certain low alloy electrodes to the stainless steel and high alloy electrodes manufactured by its Alloy Rods Co. Division and the aluminum electrodes manufactured by its subsidiary, All-State Welding Alloys Co., Inc., said John P. Gallagher, Chemetron president.

Foreign Reaction Favorable To Nixon

LONDON (AP) — Foreign reaction to Richard M. Nixon's election was widely favorable today, with conservatives enthusiastic, socialists cool to lukewarm and communists critical.

Hanoi and Saigon were silent, but South Vietnamese officials before the election preferred the Republican candidate because they considered him more hawkish than Hubert H. Humphrey.

In the first Soviet comment on Nixon's election, Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said he was the "big business" candidate who won strong support in the large cities because he promised to suppress the "Negro upheaval."

Pravda said neither Nixon nor Humphrey gave the American people a "clear answer to questions of war and peace," and as a result "Americans quite openly voted not so much for as against one candidate or another."

Asians Mixed

In Asia, there was some concern and criticism mixed amid general approval of the election outcome. But anti-Communist leaders who know Nixon from his many visits to their areas welcomed his election and expressed confidence he would maintain close U.S. ties with the area.

In Venezuela, where Nixon was treated roughly on a visit 10 years ago, his election aroused some disappointment. Crowds in Caracas on election night cheered returns in which Humphrey led.

The Times of London said the first condition for success of Nixon's presidency would be to end the Vietnam war and added that "on foreign policy, Mr. Nixon's stated position accords with realities. Before the invasion of Czechoslovakia his harder line on Russia might have seemed a mere echo of Dullesism, but its tone now is probably about right for Europe's needs."

The London Daily Express noted that Britain's next ambassador to Washington, John Freeman, may be embarrassed because while editor of the weekly New Statesman he frequently attacked Nixon.

'Good Decision'

West Germans appeared pleased at Nixon's election. To a small sampling, at least, he presented an image of a no-nonsense man who would stand up to Soviet communism. Finance Minister Franz Joseph Strauss cabled the President-elect: "The American people have made a good decision. The free world has gained a good leader."

An Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo attacked all three presidential candidates as supporters of the Israeli "aggression" against the Arabs. In Israel, the man in the street recalled Nixon's strong stance during the campaign in favor of Israel. "Now all we have to do is wait and see that he lives up to those promises," one political writer said.

Chinese Communist newspapers in Hong Kong called Nixon "a hawk who has not given up the threat of new weapons and new military action in Vietnam."

Formosa Pro-Nixon

Hong Kong editions of Peking's Ta Kung Pao and Shanghai's Wen Wei Pao also labeled Nixon a "rotten champion of American imperialism."

There was no reaction from Peking itself.

Solid pro-Nixon sentiment was evident on Formosa, Nationalist China's island.

"I am pleased," said Premier Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand. South Korean Information Minister Hong Chong-chul said Nixon would help strengthen ties among non-Communist nations.

A Japanese foreign ministry spokesman said his government feels Nixon will ask Asian countries to shoulder a greater burden of responsibility for their defense. Concerning policy toward Japan, he said he feels Nixon "will follow the same fundamental line of the Johnson administration on basic issues."

U.N. To Approve Ocean Program Sought By LBJ

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for an international Decade of Ocean Development is expected to get unanimous approval in the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee.

A resolution sponsored by the United States and 18 other nations welcomes Johnson's proposal last March to begin a 10-year program in 1970 to promote the peaceful uses of the ocean floor.

The resolution calls on U.N. members to propose scientific programs for the decade, urges them to publish the results of their findings during that period and asks the International Oceanographic Commission to coordinate the efforts.

The 125-nation committee is also expected today to approve two other resolutions dealing with the sea bed.

One sponsored by Malta, Mauritius and Tanzania endorses the principles that no nation may claim the sea bed, that it should be developed in the interests of all and that it should be exploited for peaceful purposes only.

Another, introduced by the United States, the Soviet Union and 28 other nations, calls on all nations to take measures to minimize pollution of the oceans from seabed mining and drilling.

Gunnar G. Schram of Iceland urged that some sort of machinery be set up to determine responsibility in sea bed exploration.

"A case of pollution can present a grave threat to countries far from the source," Schram told the committee.

A year's study of the sea bed carried out under U.N. auspices, has noted that huge resources in oil, gas, manganese and phosphate exist on or under the ocean floor. The survey pointed out, however, that knowledge of these resources is limited and it will be at least 10 years before they are tapped unless there are unforeseen technological developments.

Hamilton S. Amerasinghe of Ceylon, who directed the survey, told the committee that his group is studying ways to outlaw use of the ocean floor for war purposes. He said a treaty must be worked out to reserve the sea bed for peaceful uses or mankind will face the threat of nuclear war being waged from the bottom of the ocean.

Bienenfeld says the vote Tuesday — adopting daylight saving time and suspending the state law—puts the U. P. unquestioningly in the Central Time Zone.

One Hour Behind

Thus, he says, residents of the Upper Peninsula should always be operating one hour behind those in the Lower Peninsula.

Backers of daylight time had pointed to the increased recreation possibilities as well as a uniform business day. Opponents—the Michigan Farm Bureau and bowling and theater interests—had argued that approval of the proposal would put Michigan on "double daylight time." They contended the state geographically belonged in the Central Time Zone.

O'Hara Loses 'Irish Contest'

DETROIT (AP) — "I enjoyed the work on the Supreme Court like I never enjoyed anything in my life," said Justice Michael O'Hara.

But now, saying "it's a little late to change careers at age 58," the grey-haired O'Hara tentatively is planning to return to a law practice he left six years ago in Menominee in Upper Michigan.

O'Hara lost in Tuesday's election to another Irishman, Thomas Giles Kavanagh, a judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals and a resident of Birmingham at the opposite end of the state from Menominee.

The prize: an eight-year term on the Michigan Supreme Court at an annual salary of $35,000 and a stake in some of the most momentous legal decisions in a state with eight million residents.

From the start, the O'Hara-Kavanagh contest was viewed by many as an "Irish name contest" with a large proportion of voters unaware of the judicial qualifications, records and philosophies of the two opponents.

"Putting two persons with the names Kavanagh and O'Hara next to each other and making it a popularity contest is ridiculous," O'Hara said in a telephone interview from his home in Menominee.

"I think justices should run against their records," he asserted. "This was a popularity contest."

Although the high court technically is nonpartisan, O'Hara is a Democrat.

Kavanagh's election brings the Democrats a 4-3 margin of control on the high court, tossing the Republicans out of the majority.

O'Hara carried an incumbent designation on the ballot. But Kavanagh supporters thought that the Appeals Court Justice would benefit from voter association with the name of Thomas M. Kavanagh, a former chief justice who has served on the State Supreme Court since 1957. The Kavanaghs are not related.

O'Hara says the Kavanagh name association "was a master stroke on the part of Democratic strategists.

"It's pretty hard to get a message to darn near two million people that it's not the same man who is on the court," O'Hara said.

He describes Kavanagh as "a nice guy. I don't agree with him a great many times legally and philosophically, but he certainly is personable and has a high degree of integrity."

School Boards Aren't Forums, Rombouts States

GRAND RAPIDS — School board meetings should not be viewed as public forums, Dr. Jack L. Rombouts, secretary to Northern Michigan University's Board of Control, told the Michigan Association of School Boards today.

"A board meets to conduct the business for which it is responsible, not to engage in indiscriminate discussions with those who might be in the audience," he said.

Rombout said persons who have complaints, but did not petition to be on the meeting's agenda, "should be allowed to state their case briefly. They should then be told that the matter will be studied by the board before action is taken."

This method is preferable, he said, even though the agenda might reserve a place for hearing delegations because a board meting "should not be viewed as a public forum for one and all."

Rombouts told association members that school boards should never get into a dispute with the audience on the merits of a course of action aken by it. "This will serve only to prolong the meeting unduly and to detract from the board's image as a calm and deliberative body," he said.

Home Town Honors Nixon

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — The town where Richard M. Nixon grew up and went to college celebrated his election to the presidency with a display of American flags in windows and front yards.

"I think anybody who has been involved with him is tremendously excited, said Hubert Perry, a banker whose father, Herman, had encouraged Nixon to run for Congress in 1946.

The final semiofficial vote totals in Whittier gave Nixon 21,181 to 8,160 for Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

Nixon, son of a Whittier grocer, was a student leader in Whittier high school and Whittier college. He met his future wife Pat in a Whittier little theater production.

Nixon as President "was the dream of my father, myself and those who have been associated with him," Perry recalled Wednesday. "I think this is a wonderful thing for Whittier."

State Democrats Control House

LANSING (AP) — When the 75th Michigan Legislature convenes next Jan. 8 it will find that, for the first time since 1939, the House will be controlled by one political party and the Senate by another.

That fact will have important political implications for the state.

It arises because the Democrats, benefitting from a surprisingly high vote for Hubert Humphrey and a surprisingly low turnout for third-party candidate George Wallace, captured a narrow edge in the State House of Representatives in Tuesday's voting.

Senators, meanwhile, did not face re-election, since they enjoy four-year terms. The victory of Republican Alvin J. DeGrow of Pigeon in a special election Tuesday confirmed the GOP's 20-18 majority in the upper chamber.

GOP Underdogs

Republicans, who enjoyed a 56-54 majority in the House during most of this year's now-completed session, will find themselves 57-53 underdogs next year if Wednesday's unofficial vote returns are made official.

The GOP lost four incumbent legislators while picking up one Democratic seat and filling a vacant House seat it had previously held.

"It's going to make government a lot slower," said current House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, who presumably will lose his prestigious post next January and become the House minority leader.

"It means that there is an increase chance for compromise and bargaining between the two houses of the Legislature," said House Minority Leader William Ryan, D-Detroit, who is not guaranteed the speaker's chair even if Democrats do organize the House Jan. 8.

Romney Confident

"I feel confident of my ability to work with this new Legislature unless one chamber or the other should adopt a narrow, partisan approach," said Republican Gov. George Romney.

Waldron said the Democrats' increased political bargaining power will mean "they'll want to spend more. That's the way it always goes."

"Public employe problems will be harder to resolve," Waldron added. "So will some of the labor matters. It'll be a standoff on that."

"We'll be willing to do more in the area of solutions to urban problems," said Ryan, the Democrat. "And, strangely enough, I think we can do a better job understanding the peculiar problems the farmers are facing, too."

"I will continue to consider programs and measures on the basis of merit and work with the leaders of both parties," Romney vowed.

Waldron said that after it became apparent Humphrey would carry Michigan there was little chance the GOP could retain control of the state House. "I think we did quite well under the circumstances," he said.

Choose Speaker

He also predicted: "I think the national (Nixon) administration will be effective enough that when Nixon is re-elected in 1972, we'll be able to retain the majority that we're going to win in 1970."

Choosing a speaker from among their ranks could prove a trying chore for the House Democratic contingent, already divided into a number of often-quarreling factions.

Ryan, as Democratic leader in the current Legislature, is an obvious candidate for the policy-making post, but he is likely to be challenged — at least behind the closed doors of the Democratic caucus.

Names which have been mentioned as possible rivals to Ryan include veteran Reps. George Montgomery of Detroit, Albert Horrigan of Flint, Dominic Jacobetti of Negaunee, William Copeland of Wyandotte and Arthur Law of Pontiac.

Not since the 1937-39 Legislature has each party had firm control of one house, although the House was evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats following the elections of 1958 and 1966.

East Lansing Lifts Liquor Ban

EAST LANSING (AP)—East Lansing, site of Michigan State University, voted by a 2-1 majority to lift a ban on the sale of liquor that has been in effect since 1907.

The vote approving a charter amendment to permit the sale of liquor was 7,271 to 3,986. The vote to allow the sale of liquor by the glass passed 7,147 to 3,935.

The vote was a reversal of two previous votes on the same question during the past 10 years.

City officials had favored the liquor sale, saying it would attract more business and building, particularly in the downtown area.

Nathan L. Sloan, who has been spending a 15 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Sloan, 805 Wisconsin Ave., returned Saturday to Camp LeJeune, N.C., where he will be training at the Officers Medical Field School. He recently was promoted to HM3 rank.

Upon leaving his former assignment at U.S. Naval Hospital, Quantico, Va. Sloan received a letter of appreciation from Capt. Robert A. Statler, commanding officer of the hospital. Capt. Statler expressed his appreciation for outstanding performance of duty while attached to the Naval Hospital and said many comments of praise had been received from patients, officers and physicians of the staff.

House Wreckers Disturb Bath

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — To be called from the bathtub to answer the door is bad enough, but it's worse if you have to go out and keep your home from being knocked down.

Mrs. Rayfield Scroggins says she was taking a bath last Thursday when "I heard that huge crane move in." She jumped from the tub, put on clothes and went to ask the crane operator what was happeningm

"He told me our place was on his list to be demolished," she said. "He also told me he didn't have a lot of time to talk it over since there were about 80 houses in our area on his list for demolition."

The homes are to be leveled for a low-cost housing project. But an authority spokesman admitted later that Mrs. Scoroggins' home was one of about 25 owned by persons who have not agreed to sale terms.

She wasn't satisfied when the authority agreed to leave her home alone for now. She complained that no one "even bothered to apologize."

She got an apology Monday.

Edward N. Helfield, St. Paul Housing and Redevelopment Authority director, termed the incident an "unfortunate coincidence of mistakes."

Marine Protests, On Hunger Strike

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A young Marine is in his 11th day of a hunger strike today, protesting his court-martial sentence of four months at hard labor for his being AWOL.

Marine doctors said Pfc. John Robinson, 19, of Westport, Conn., is in good health. He has refused to eat 29 consecutive meals through Wednesday.

The youth was arrested July 17 in Marin City, Calif., after chaining himself to a clergyman and refusing to go to Vietnam. Thirteen other Marines joined him in the fast but have since resumed eating.

Game's Fine Flavor Needs Careful Handling Of Meat

By LEE SMITS

What sportsmen are doing now—to use the language of biology professors—is "reducing to possession"; harvesting game.

Too many hunters fail to make the best use of what they harvest. When you see a deer draped over the hood of a car you know that inferior venison is going to be served on somebody's table.

To compile instructions on the care and treatment of wild meat would require a book, and there are books on the subject. However, there may be a few general suggestions worth communicating. Let's assume that most deer hunters know how important it is to dress out a deer promptly and thoroughly. It is not advisable to use water in cleansing the interior of a deer carcass. Clean rags, paper towels or—in a pinch—grass can be used to scrub meat free of blood.

A deer hunter does well to carry a supply of cheese cloth with which to wrap a dressed deer to keep off flies. Liberal dousing with black pepper is said to discourage flies.

* * *

Small game should be dressed and cooled as soon as possible. It is customary to hang ducks, and you can get into an argument as to which end should be up. Hy Dahlka impales a duck at the head end to hang in a shady place. Mr. Dahlka has excellent advice for thawing deep-freeze duck. Soak overnight in buttermilk.

Rabbits should be eviscerated—or gutted—in the field. This is very simply done by slitting the belly and, holding the rabbit by front and back legs, flipping it sharply to dislodge the entrails.

Do not let a dog eat rabbit innards, which often carry tape worm.

Pheasant is pretty much like chicken. Everybody should know how to determine the relative age of a pheasant. Lift the bird by gripping the upper bill. If the bill bends readily, the pheasant is of a tender age. If the bill is rock hard, you have a stewing bird.

* * *

One species of game that must be opened up and dressed promptly is bear. A fat bear with a heavy coat will spoil in a few hours on a mild fall day.

If somebody leaves a medium-sized black bear at your house here is a promising recipe for bear, from Mrs. Eleanor Schell of Detroit, who has made a study of game cookery.

"Clean and lard a saddle of young bear," says Mrs. Schell. "Sprinkle with salt and pepper, rub well with flour. Place on rack in pan, roast in your gas range oven at 450 degrees for half an hour, then reduce heat to 300 degrees, and cook for an hour and a half to two hours. Do not add water to the pan. If fat is skimpy place strips of bacon on top of the saddle. Serve with currant sauce."

* * *

Game is more highly considered in Europe than in the United States and it is never wasted. For wild meat that is badly shot up, soaked with blood or even a little "high", a French or German chef prepares his own version of a marinade.

A marinade is a free-hand, individual composition. Here is one from the books, for venison:

"Cover five pounds of meat with equal parts of dry red wine and water. Add 6 or 8 black peppercorns, one bay leaf, 8 to 10 whole cloves, one sliced onion, 1 small sprig of rosemary. Keep meat in the marinade, refrigerated, for one to three days, turning from time to time."

* * *

Carl Glaser, a famous Detroit restaurateur, introduced a Bavarian method of cooking grouse, pheasant, woodcock. Anywhere the recipe was tried it became permanently in favor.

Cut bird into serving pieces. Braise with butter and arrange in casserole with sauerkraut and sliced apple, adding a generous portion of butter. Bake for two hours or more at low temperature.

It would seem needless to mention that game needs to be aged, as does any meat. Hanging in a cool place for a week makes all the difference in venison, moose, duck.

Michigan pioneers treated game as a staple commodity, to be cooked with a minimum of fussing. In modern times we rate wild meat as a luxury, and treat it accordingly.

Inflation Hits Buying Power

LANSING (AP) —Consumers Power Co. has been hard hit by inflation, a witness for the utility told the State Public Service Commission Wednesday.

Consumers is seeking an increase in gas and electric rates. The utility has not yet specified any percentage or dollar increase.

John Langum, an economic consultant from Chicago, said Consumers should be allowed a rate of return on its investment of between 7.5 and 8 per cent.

"The general price level is approaching three times what it was before World War II," Langum said. "The value of the dollar has declined by more than two-thirds and no end is yet in sight."

Langum asked consideration of the impact of inflation in the commission's appraisal of the operating expenses of the utility, in the value of the utility property devoted to its public services and in determining a fair rate of return.

All these financial pressures being exerted country-wide, he said, also apply to operation of the utility.

Quits Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold Howe II announced Wednesday he will quit as U. S. commissioner of education Dec. 31, and join the Ford Foundation.

Howe, as commissioner, ran into criticism from southerners for his tactics in support of racial integration of public schools.

ALLEGAN (AP)—Owners of the Allegan Ambulance Service have served notice they will discontinue operations Nov. 15 unless there is a subsidy forthcoming from governmental agencies. The owners said they would retain their equipment for 30 days beyond Nov. 15 to permit agencies to try to get together on a subsidy program, but would sell it after that date.

Demo Majorities On Education Boards

By The Associated Press

Hope for more peaceful progress and less tension surrounded the Michigan State University Board of Trustees today following Democratic victories in races for two vacant seats.

Democrats also swept into eight-year terms on three other statewide education boards in Tuesday's election.

Victory for Democrats Blanche Martin and Warren Huff allowed that party to retain its 5-3 majority on the MSU board and assured two more years of life for the controversial ability-to-pay tuition plan.

Republican candidates Richard Ernst and David Diehl had attacked the plan and indicated they would fight to repeal it if they were elected.

Martin and Huff, on the other hand, backed the sliding scale tuition program that a Democratic board majority approved last year.

Ability-To-Pay

Board chairman Don Stevens, a Democrat, saw his party's victory as "an indication that the people of Michigan support the ability-to-pay tuition proposal that was made an issue in this campaign."

"Now everyone should do everything possible to move MSU forward," Stevens added.

MSU President John Hannah welcomed Huff, 59, of Plymouth, a former board member who had been defeated two years ago in a re-election bid, and Martin, 31, an East Lansing dentist and former MSU grid star.

Martin, the first Negro ever to serve on the MSU board, is a "man who brings a point of view that I think is very important," Hannah said. "We are happy to have him, for we knew him as a student and as an alumnus."

Incumbent Won

In other statewide education board races, Democrats Gerald Dunn, 33, of Flushing, and Robert Nederlander, 35, of Detroit, defeated incumbent Republicans appointed earlier this year by Gov. George Romney to fill board vacancies. They were Frederick Matthaei Jr., 42, of Bloomfield, and Lawrence Lindemer, 46, of Stockbridge.

The Democratic victory left the U-M board with a 5-3 Republican majority.

Incumbent Democrat Marilyn Jean Kelly won easy re-election to the State Board of Education. She and fellow Democrat Michael Deeb, 33, of Highland Park, defeated Republicans Barbara Dumouchelle of Grosse Ile and James Ten Brink, 62, of Muskegon.

Victory allowed Democrats to maintain a 6-2 majority on the state board.

In the Wayne State University race, Democrats also captured two seats, creating an even party split. Winners were George C. Edwards III, 27, a Detroit attorney, and Augustus Calloway, 60, director of community affairs for Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

SUNDAY, NOV. 10 is Eucharistic Day at St. Patrick's Church in Escanaba and solemn exposition of the Blessed Sacrament will be held from 11:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. Sunday. During a special Mass at 4 p. m., 52 children will receive their First Holy Communion. Pictured above, left, with the chalice that will be used in the Eucharistic Day services are from left, Kathleen O'Brien Anderson, Phyllis Kelly Villemer, Louis E. Carr, Michael Swille, Sister Irene Bernadette and Lynn Butrymowicz. The chalice belonged to the late Father Francis Xavier Barth who was pastor at St. Patrick's from 1911 to 1922, and has been refurbished by St. Patrick's Guild. The chalice was presented to Rev. Barth by student friends at the University of Louvain, Belgium, at his ordination in 1894. Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Villemer and Mr. Carr were members of the Rev. Barth's First Communion class in 1911 and the children pictured with them will make their First Communion on Sunday. In the second picture, William St. Martin left and Michael Lessard display the new banner and wearing apparel which was purchased by the ladies of St. Patrick's Guild. (Daily Press Photos)

Holy Family Ladies Plan Christmas Party

The November meeting of the Holy Family Altar Society of the Holy Family Church of Flat Rock was held last night with Mrs. Dwane Marenger, president, presiding.

Final plans were made for a bake sale to be held Sunday morning, Dec. 1 following the Masses. A coffee clutch will also be held at this time and general chairman will be Mrs. George King. On the committee are Mrs. Lawrence Chouinard, Mrs. John MacGillis, Mrs. Ed Marenger, Mrs. LeRoy Hereau and Mrs. Bruce McGuigan.

Plans were also made for the Christmas party to be held at the December meeting and cochairmen are Mrs. Lawrence Chouinard and Mrs. Clarence Theoret. There will be a potluck supper at 7:30. Each member is asked to bring a dollar gift for exchange and also cookies which will be brought to the Bishop Noa Home.

Reports on the workshop held in Escanaba were given by Mrs. Donald Roberts, Mrs. Herman Bittner, Mrs. Clarence Theoret and Mrs. Hubert Irving.

Lunch was served by the Carroll's Corner area ladies, Mrs. George King, chairman. Games were played and winners were Mrs. John MacGillis and Mrs. Hubert Irving. Guest prize was awarded to Mrs. Dwane Marenger.

Bark River

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Maki of Ishpeming visited Sunday with their daughter's family, the Hector Larsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pokladowski, Bark River, Mrs. Anna Deptula, Escanaba and Mr. and Mrs. James Paiser of Menominee, traveled to Marshfield, Wis., Sunday to visit with Mrs. Willard Ledger of Spalding, who is a surgical patient in St. Joseph Hospital there. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woodson in Mattoon, Wis.

Eucharistic Day At St. Patrick's Sunday

Sunday, Nov. 10 will be Eucharistic Day at St. Patrick's Church as it is the responsibility of each Catholic parish in the Upper Peninsula to hold a day of special devotion to the Holy Eucharist.

There will be a special schedule of confessions on Saturday in preparation for the Sunday observance. At the regular Sunday Masses special devotions will be directed to the Catholic Mystery of the Eucharist. There will be solemn exposition of the Blessed Sacrament from the 11:30 a.m. High Mass until 4 p.m. in the afternoon.

Special Mass

The high point of the day will be a special Sunday Mass at 4 p.m. at which 52 boys and girls will receive their First Holy Communion. Special ceremonies and decorations have been planned for the First Communion Mass.

The chalice used in the Eucharistic Day services will be the recently refurbished chalice of the late Father Francis Xavier Barth who was the pastor at St. Patrick's from 1911 to 1922 when he died at the age of 52.

Civic Interests

A celebrated orator and acknowledged scholar, Father Barth was noted for his civic interests in Escanaba. He is well remembered for the organization of the St. Patrick Brigades which combined religious, patriotic, and recreational programs.

The Barth chalice, refurbished by the ladies of St. Patrick's Guild, was presented to him by student friends at the University of Louvain, Belgium in 1894 at his ordination.

Patron Saints

Custom made by a noted goldsmith, Jacob Locher, of the Hague, Netherlands, it contains intricate gold engraving of religious symbols and two raised medallions on the base, one in honor of Father Barth's patron, St. Francis Xavier, the other in honor of his mother's patron, St. Mary Magdalene.

St. Patrick's Guild also has purchased new apparel for the altar boys and additional decorations for the sanctuary for the Eucharistic Day. Each parishioner of St. Patrick's is invited to received Holy Communion and visit the Blessed Sacrament enthroned on Eucharistic Day.

Events

Obituary

Mrs. Hulda Hyvonen and daughter, Elsie, of Marquette attended funeral services here Monday for Mrs. Edward Hyvonen. Mrs. Hyvonen died early Saturday in Manistique following a long illness. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, her parents, five brothers and two sisters. Burial was in the Newberry Cemetery.

To flambe puddings and other desserts, warm brandy or rum (about ½ cup for 6 servings) over low heat; pour over pudding and light. Flaming without liquor can be accomplished by dipping sugar cubes or tablets into lemon extract before placing them on the dessert and lighting.

Lyceum Program At Rock Monday

The Rock School Assembly on Monday, Nov. 11 will start at 1:20 p.m. and will feature a wildlife program by Miss Leslie Carroll.

Her interest in wildlife and her ability to raise forest orphans has brought her much publicity and several articles have been written in national newspapers and magazines.

She will divide her program into two parts, illustrated slides on her wilderness orphans, and a live demonstration on what can be accomplished with "orphans" if given love, compassion, and understanding.

She will present her canine cuties, all unwanted dogs when she found them, doing eye catching tricks. This program is open to the public.

Holiday Workshop At Stephenson

Menominee County Home Extension Club will hold their anual Christmas Workshop in the basement of the Bank of Stephenson on Tuesday, Nov. 12 from 2 to 8 p.m. Christmas gift ideas and decoration articles will be displayed by the various county groups.

Refreshments will be served by St. John's group of Menominee. The public is invited to attend.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Veterans' Day Program At Rock

Veteran's Day will be observed at the Rock School Monday, Nov. 11 at 10:30 a.m. A program sponsored by the Rock American Legion Post 559 will be presented with students participating.

The program is as follows: Band selections under the direction of John Violetta; color bearers with advance of the flag; opening remarks by Commanler Waino Aalto; story of our flag by Dianne Kivekas; school chorus under the direction of Mrs. Caroline Kaminen; prayer by Chaplain Francis Trombly; history of the Armed Forces by Debbie Trombly; introduction and closing remarks by Debbie Kivela; Star Spangled Banner b ythe student body; salute to the dead by the firing squad; taps by the bugler. A BEE FOR YOUR BONNET

Health experts the world over agree, honey is one of the most beneficial foods available to man. They claim it to be an excellent heart food, a source of quick energy, a natural sedative, a fine infant food and a great all-around rejuvenator.

Looking at honey from a purely objective standpoint, we find honey to be the only animal carbohydrate that is a natural sweet. It is a natural sugar, 90% predigested when it reaches the table.

Honey is very mild, easy to digest, a good source of energy and the levulose and dextrose it contains is the sweetest of all sugars.

Lettermen's Club To Sell Tags For Dystrophy Fund

The Lettermen's Club of Gladstone High School will be selling tags on Delta Ave Friday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. helping to raise funds for the 1968 fight against Muscular Dystrophy.

Last year the Lettermen raised $150 for the fund and this year the results should be even better as two groups will be competing to increase Gladstone's contribution to the fight. According to Don Pfotenhauer, chairman, a junior and senior group of boys, plus a group of girls will be selling tags on Friday evening.

Cooperation of the local citizens will be appreciated by the Lettermen and by the Delta County Campaign for Muscular Dystrophy. Tom Smith, of Escanaba, is co-chairman of the Delta County Campaign.

Students Elect Wrong President In Mock Voting

Gladstone High School Students held a mock election at the school Tuesday morning but they elected the wrong president.

Students cast 398 votes for Hubert Humphrey, 305 for Richard Nixon and 85 for George Wallace.

In the congressional election, students voted 541 for Philip Ruppe to 241 for Raymond Clevenger; and 582 for Charles Varnum over Einar Erlandsen with 206.

Speeches for the candidates were given during an election assembly Monday before the voting Tuesday morning.

Loses Election Bet, Forced To Eat Hat

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Political science professor Clinton Rossiter, who turned out to be a "lousy" prophet in the presidential election, kept his promise and ate a hat.

About a year ago, Rossiter said he would eat a hat belonging to Cornell University President James E. Perkins if third-party candidate George C. Wallace got more than 2.7 per cent of the vote.

Monday a classified ad in the Cornell Sun, student daily, reminded Rossiter of his promise.

Wednesday, when it was apparent Wallace would have about 15 per cent of the vote, a notice in the Sun suggested that Rossiter do his hat eating on the steps of Olin Library.

Rossiter appeared carrying a palm-leaf hat. He chewed on the hat several times before a group of students produced a hat-shaped cake, with a band around it reading "property of James Perkins."

Said Rossiter: "I'll say one thing that I've said to my students for 20 years, and they never believed me, and now I hope they will: professors of political science and history are lousy prophets."

Wrong Sign Gives Nixon His Motto

DESHLER, Ohio (AP) — Young Vicki Lynne Cole wanted to wave a sign when Richard M. Nixon's campaign trail rolled through this tiny community last month.

She had lost her own placard, so she picked up one she saw lying in the street and held it high, hoping Nixon would see it.

The sign read: "Bring Us Together Again."

Unknown to Vicki, Nixon saw the sign and remembered it.

Appearing before a crowd of supporters Wednesday, the president-elect announced that "Bring Us Together" would be the motto and first great objective of his administration.

Nixon said that the placard that "touched me most" was one he had seen at Deshler last month.

Vicki, a 13-year-old eighth grader, said she didn't have time to notice the words on the sign when she picked it up. The sign she originally planned to hold up read: "LBJ convinced me to vote Republican."

Freak Accident Kills Girl, 19

NEWAYGO (AP) — Gail Frain, 19, of Newaygo, was killed Wednesday when the car in which she was riding was knocked out of control in a freak mishap and overturned. Police said a tractor-drawn hay wagon operated by Bernard Chapin, 19, of Greenville, struck the rear of a car driven by Danile Sheesley, 25, of Newaygo, with whom Miss Frain was riding.

Hope College Will Raise Its Tuition

HOLLAND (AP) — Hope College has announced that it will increase its annual tuition by $200 for the 1969-70 academic year, bringing it to $1,450. Room and board fees will remain $860. Treasurer Clarence J. Handlogten said inflation was to blame for the increase.

Bus-Only Lanes Not Being Tried

WASHINGTON (AP) — The idea seems simple: Set aside a freeway lane for buses only; then whisk commuters nonstop at high speeds between the suburbs and downtown.

Unfortunately, say the government's transportation experts, it has turned out to be a terrible complicated concept.

Since federal officials started pushing the idea more than a year ago—and offering federal funds for much of the cost—not a single city has yet put it into effect.

The main obstacle is that other motorists jammed up bumper to bumper on a freeway are not expected to look kindly upon a bus-only lane that doesn't have a bus going by every minute, or perhaps every 30 seconds. Attracting that many bus riders has proved an enormous task.

And the buses cannot take full advantage of their exclusive freeway lane if they have to wait in the frequently long lineups of vehicles to use entrance and exit ramps. So to make the concept most effective, exclusive ramps have to be built for the buses.

Finally, the experts say, people do not want to take a bus to work in the city unless they can get adequate public transportation once they're there. And few cities have excellent systems to move people around downtown.

The express-bus impasse typifies the trouble officials have found in persuading people to leave their cars—an effort they say must succeed if the cities are to be saved from congestion.

"We're beginning to see that you have to look at the whole city as a system," says Paul Sitton, newly named director of the Department of Transportation's Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

Farm Index Down

LANSING (AP) — The index of prices received by Michigan farmers as of Oct. 15 was 257 per cent of the 1910-14 average, down two points from mid-October of last year.

The state crop reporting service said lower prices for wheat, corn, oats, soybeans, carrots and cucumbers more than offset higher prices for apples, potatoes, wholesale milk, eggs, meat animals and onions.

California offers the widest diversity of voting methods in the nation. Voters in 17 counties will record their choices on one of five computerized systems. Two counties and part of a third use lever-type voting machines.

Freedom Ends With Purse Theft

BAKER, Calif. (AP) — The getaway of three convicts from Chino Institute for Men was slick—until they lifted Mrs. James Dehart's purse from a parked car.

Dehart, after the loss was noticed by his wife, spotted the convicts' car and chased it for an hour, over rough country roads. After 23 miles he cornered them at a service station, and an attendant brought the highway patrol.

The trio, booked Wednesday on suspicion of escape, were William Darrell Ivey, 24, San Diego, and Quinton Franks, 30, and Duane K. Martin, both of Los Angeles.

Medicare Pays Bills Quicker

The new social security Medicare laws will help persons 65 or over pay their doctor bills sooner, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba.

Under the old law, the doctor could accept an assignment of the Medicare payment or the patient could pay the bill in full and then collect from Medicare.

Now, if the doctor does not want to accept assignment, the patient may request Medicare to pay the applicable amount and then the patient can turn it over to the doctor, thereby reducing the amount owed on the bill.

Car Jumps Curb At Bus Stop

DETROIT (AP)—One woman was killed and three injured when a car went out of control, jumped a curb and struck them late Tuesday as they waited at a Woodward Avenue bus stop.

Emma Arnold, 48, of Detroit, was injured fatally. Dorothy Trendo, 44, and Catherine Rogers, 46, of Detroit, and Rebecca Adaskin, 49, of Southfield, were hospitalized by injuries.

Police said Christine Bower, 35, of Detroit, told them she was turning from Piquette onto Woodward when her car door flew open and that when she reached to close the door, the vehicle went out of control.

65 Million Watch Election Windup

NEW YORK (AP)—The suspense, building inexorably over a 17-hour period, had become painful when, suddenly, it was over. Around 10:30 a.m., EST, the computers put Illinois into Nixon's column and television's greatest drama and longest program of the season came to a climax. The nation had seen its president elected, and the big show was over.

The windup was moving. First there were the closeups of a man near tears, fatigue puffing his face, gamely conceding defeat and generously congratulating his successful opponent.

The wear of Richard M. Nixon's long campaign and election-night vigil showed on his face, too, a half-hour later when he appeared before the cameras.

By one audience poll, some 65-million Americans had watched the returns on the three major networks through Tuesday evening.

From early dawn until Illinois ballots started to come in during the morning, the most interesting—and static—statistics were 43-43-17, the percentage of popular votes rolled up by the candidates Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace.

Since the live windup of the national election had been strictly a day-time show, it was repeated at the end of the day, in the news shows and in special, NBC had an hour's resume during the dinnner hour and CBS had an hour's program at the end of its evening schedule.

Bob Hope, who came along on NBC Wednesday night with a special program, was following a very tough act, attempting to entertain an audience that had stayed up most of the previous night.

Assault Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young photographer who claims Barbra Streisand's actor husband Elliot Gould hit him filed a $200,000 assault suit Wednesday in Superior Court.

Anthony Rizzo, 21, claimed Gould "beat and struck" him Oct. 28 as he tried to take photographs of Miss Streisand leaving a West Hollywood theater.

The suit asks $150,000 general and $50,000 punitive damages, plus medical expenses and reimbursement for alleged loss of camera equipment.

Pistons Break .500 Against Supersonics

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Pistons Coach Donnis Butcher and his charges broke the .500 mark Wednesday night to become a winning club for the first time this season. But it wasn't all smiles in the locker room.

It took the Pistons all of the first period to finally wrest the lead from the Seattle Supersonics and the Detroiters blew 10-point leads several times throughout the night before holding off the high flying expansion team at the end to win 127-118.

In other action, the Baltimore Bullets won a rousing 140-119 victory Wednesday night over the Atlanta Hawks. Los Angeles bounced Milwaukee 128-115 and San Francisco nipped New York 94-93.

"The turnover killed us," said Piston Coach Donnis Butcher. "We should have led by 20 at the half. It was a bad ballgame."

Seattle quickly shot off to an 11-2 lead before the Pistons began methodically chiseling away and with two minutes left in the period Jimmy Fox hit for a two-pointer to make it 26-all. Then just before the buzzer, Dave Bing popped in a pair of free throws and the Pistons led for the first time, 32-30.

In the second period, the Pistons continued their march toward their fifth victory in their last six starts and with less than seven minutes left in the half, opened up a 10-point lead for the first time, 49-39. The Pistons then picked up two more for their biggest bulge of the night before Seattle hit for eight in a row and threatened at 51-47.

Coming off a 65-57 halftime lead, Detroit finally turned over the lead with about eight minutes left in the period as the Sonics slipped ahead 70-69. After the lead exchanged hands several times, the Pistons went out in front at 4:40, 80-78 and were never behind again.

Going into a rousing final period, Detroit held on to a 92-88 lead.

With 5:44 to go, Detroit rolled up a 107-101 lead when Sonics center Bob Rule fouled out. Sonics coach Al Bianchi leaped at referee Ed Rush and the two nearly came to blows.

Rule added a few words before he and his coach were thrown out and Detroit was awarded three technical foul shots taken by Dave Bing and the Pistons led 110-101.

"You don't just fly off the handle on one call," Bianchi said in the locker room later. Though considerably calmed, he seemed reluctant to talk about the incident. "It's already cost me $50. It was a judgment

Aroused, the Sonics came roaring back and managed to tie it 111-all at 4:34. But a pair of free throws and a jumper by Bing plus four points from Eddie Miles put it away for Detroit.

With less than two minutes left, Seattle's Rod Thorn made a dive for the ball in the Piston zone and popped his right knee out of joint. Though not considered a serious injury it was extremely painful and he was taken off the floor in a wheelchair.

Thorn led the Seattle attack with 21 points, while Rule and Tom Meschery added 20 each.

Bing took scoring honors for the night with 37 points. Eddie Miles picked up 23 while Happy Hairston and Jimmy Walker added 19 and 17 points respectively.

Butcher was pleased with the win, but concerned that the Pistons had to battle the expansion club to pull it out.

"Our personnel matches up with their personnel," he said. "We need a lot more muscle."

Butcher brightened when asked about the play of Fox at center. "This was Jimmy's best ball game," he said of the sophomore center who has been sharing the spot with rookie Otto Moore. "He played tremendous tonight."

Seattle's rookie Al Hairston—no relation to Detroit's Happy — got in for a couple of minutes during the final period but did not score. He played college ball at Port Huron Junior College and Bowling Green and was a high school star at Mount Clemens.

Hairston has been sparingly used as a utility man and Bianche said "he still has a good shot at making the team."

But Hairston won't complete the club's eastern swing. "He hasn't been home to see his wife in two months," said Bianchi. "He'll meet us back in Seattle."

The defeat was the eighth in 11 games for the last-place Sonics. The Pistons, in fourth-place in the Eastern Division, are 5-4. Detroit is idle tonight but resumes action Friday night, entertaining San Francisco.

The addition of rookie center Wes Unseld to compliment Earl Monroe has made the difference in Baltimore and they scored 22 and 29 points respectively along with 24 by Kevin Loughery against the Hawks. But it was Leroy Ellis and Ray Scott who led a 49-point fourth quarter surge that moved them from a 12-point deficit in the third period to a 104-90 lead.

Ellis hit all his 15 points and Scott 10 of his 14 in the final half.

Don Ohl's 27 points led the Hawks, playing without Zelmo Beaty, who damaged the cartilage in his right knee in pregame warmups.

Jerry Lucas and Tom Van Arsdale shot Cincinnati into a 69-42 lead in the first half and Oscar Robertson added 31 points as the Royals breezed.

Elgin Baylor scored 33 points as Los Angeles broke open a tight game in the final period. Wayne Embry had 30 points for the Bucks.

Jeff Mullins' 10-foot jump shot with three seconds to play capped San Francisco's comeback over New York. The Knicks had gone ahead 93-92 with seven seconds left on a basket by Dick Barnett.

The Warriors, who overcame a 13-point deficit in the third quarter, were sparked by Rudy LaRusso's 24 points, including 10 in the final period. Cazzie Russell led the Knicks with 18.

Ohio State Takes Over Lead In Big Ten Stats

CHICAGO (AP) — Second-ranked Ohio State, which is aiming for its seventh straight football victory at Wisconsin Saturday, has taken over the offensive and defensive lead in the Big Ten football statistical race.

The Buckeyes are averaging 464 yards per conference game. They are tops in rushing with a 296 average while Iowa leads the aerial yardage list with 189. Iowa is second in over-all offense with a 453 average.

Defeinsively, Ohio State has checked opponents for a 231 average per game. Michigan State's second, yielding an average of 300. The Bucks are best against rushing, allowing 124 yards per game. Purdue is No. 1 against passing, permiting an average of only 120.

Individual leaders include:

Rushing—Ron Johnson, Michigan, 528, and John Isenbarger, Indiana, 428; passing — Larry Lawrence, Iowa, 41-77-626, and Dennis Brown, Michigan, 43-92—605; total offense — Brown 801, and Rex Kern, Ohio State, 783; scoring — Ron Johnson 38 points; pass receiving — Jade Butcher, Indiana, 19-329, and Barry Crees, Iowa, 17-322.

Kickoff returns — Jim Kirkpatrick, Purdue, 7 for 25 yard average, and Bob Bess, Illinois, 8-24; interceptions — Tom Curtis, Michigan, 7-12, and Mike Sensibaugh, Ohio State, 3-58; punting — Kerry Reardon, Iowa, 16 for 41 average, and Dick Berlinski, MSU, 17-40; punt returns — Doug Roalstad, Minnesota, 8 for 18 average, and George Hoey, Michigan 7-16.

Detroit Drops In NFL Stats

DETROIT (AP)—The weekly National Football League statistics could well be a tip-off on the outcome of the Detroit Lions' game with the Baltimore Colts this Sunday.

The Lions not only dropped their game with Los Angeles on the West Coast last weekend, they also dropped in the weekly NFL statistics.

Quarterback Bill Munson fell from second to fifth among the passers and running back Mel Farr tumbled from third to fifth among the runners. Both were the leaders two weeks ago.

To make matters worse, the Lions will be up against a former teammate, quarterback Earl Morrall, and right now he is coasting behind the Colts' record of seven victories against only one loss, compared to Detroit's record of 3-4-1.

The Colts' lineup features another face familiar to Michigan fans — defensive left end Bubba Smith. Smith is in his second pro season and stands 6 feet 7 and remains 295 pounds as he was at Michigan State.

Right now, Lions' quarterback Munson is ahead of Morrall in the NFL passing statistics. But Morrall still is in the top 10. And Morrall has thrown 17 touchdown passes, compared to only nine for Munson.

The Colts may not get a chance to test Farr. He has injuries to his left knee and right ankle and missed last week's game against the Rams. Farr has done a little running this week, but Lions' officials say he still is not scheduled to play Sunday against Baltimore.

ABA Plans Second All-Star Contest

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — George Mikan, American Basketball Association commissioner, said Wednesday the new league may hold its second annual All-Star Game at Convention Hall here.

"Several other towns—primarily Louisville—want the game this year," Mikan said. "But the enthusiasm I see here leads me to believe it would be wise to put the game in here. Maybe around Jan. 28, or maybe a little later."

Michigan Favored Over Banged-Up Illini Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A banged-up, winless Illinois team invades Michigan Saturday hoping to spring the surprise of the football season but so undermanned the task seems impossible.

The oddsmakers have made the once-beaten, seventh-ranked Wolverines a 22-point favorite.

This will be the 54th meeting of the two Big Ten rivals. The Illini, in the past, have pulled some of their biggest upsets in this series. The greatest ambush of late came in 1955 when the Illini beat a No. 1-rated Michigan team 25-6.

Michigan owns a 35-18 edge in the rivalry that stretches back to 1898. Illinois, a 21-14 loser last year, has not won at Michigan since taking a 21-8 decision in 1958.

In 23 games of the series, victory has been decided by seven points or less and on 13 other occasions the margin has been no more than 14 points.

Newest additions to Illinois' casualty list are scatback Billy Huston, out for the season with a knee injury, and defensive end Guy Robinson, shelved with a bad leg.

"We have such a shortage of players that it is becoming difficult preparing for games," says Coach Jim Valek. "We now are only two-deep in each offensive backfield position.

"In our Big Ten games so far, we started slowly then put on inspired rallies. Our kids have been adjusting to the other team's execution, but it has taken a little while in each game and we've had too much to make up.

"We can't expect to win playing 35 minutes of football. If we can put it all together for 60 minutes, we stand a good chance with anybody."

Outside the conference, Illinois has been bombarded by Kansas, Missouri and Notre Dame. In Big Ten action it has lost 28-14 to Indiana, 17-10 to Minnesota, 31-24 to Ohio State and 35-17 to Purdue.

Bob Naponic has hit on 67 out of 153 passes for 639 yards. He has carried the ball 96 times for 269 yards, but protection has been so poor that he has lost 212—netting only 57.

The rushing attack is shouldered mainly by fullback Rich Johnson. He has drilled 616 yards in 153 carries and now is Illinois' third best rusher in history with a career total of 1,701 yards. Johnny Karras is second with 2,069 and Jim Brabowski is No. 1 with 2,878.

Johnson, who has been hampered with a shoulder injury, and Ken Bargo have been alternating. Bargo has 270 yards in 67 trips.

Bob Burns has been converted from quarterback to a split end and in the three games he has played at that spot he has eight catches for 88 yards. Doug Dieken leads the receivers with 20 for 212 while Bob Bess has 13 for 103.

Red Wings Stop Hawks With Third Period Goal

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings used something old and something new but in the end it was Bruce MacGregor who left the Chicago Black Hawks blue.

The something old was Gordie Howe, performing for the 23rd season in the National Hockey League. The something new was young Nick Libett, a rookie center, who won't be 23 years old until next month. Both Howe and Libett scored two goals—Gordie's pair giving him 694 in regular season play.

But it was MacGregor's third-period goal that sunk the Hawks 6-5 Wednesday night.

In other NHL action, Toronto nipped Minnesota 1-0, Boston bombed Philadelphia 7-1, St. Louis dropped Pittsburgh 3-1 and Los Angeles blanked New York 2-0.

Howe, Libett and another rookie, Danny Lawson, gave Detroit a first period edge. But Erick Nesterenko hit twice and Pit Martin, Chico Makie and Jim Pappin all scored for Chicago—Pappin's third-period goal tying the game after Howe's second of the night.

Then MacGregor's first goal of the year with 5½ minutes left to play won it for the Red Wings.

Bobby Hull had four assists and took over the NHL scoring lead from Chicago teammate Stan Mikita. Hull has nine goals and 13 assists for 22 points compared to Mikita's 5-13-18.

Toronto spoiled John Muckle's debut as Minnesota coach by nipping the North Stars on a third period goal by Paul Henderson.

The fiercely forechecking Leafs protected goalie Bruce Gamble, who played the shutout in only his second start of the season. Most of Minnesota's 27 shots were harmless.

Henderson, roaming free about 20 feet in front of Minnesota goalie Cesare Maniago, whipped a waist high shot for the goal after taking a pass from Floyd Smith.

It was the North Stars' first game under Muckler, who took over as coach when Wren Blair decided to devote all his time to the Minnesota general manager's job.

St. Louis bunched three goals in 11 minutes of the second period to beat Pittsburgh. The trio of scores came after the Penguins' Earl Ingarfield had snapped a scoreless tie in the second period.

Then Camille Henry, the West Division's leading scorer, potted his eighth goal of the year and Bill McCreary and Ab MacDonald also hit.

The Penguins managed only 20 shots at Glenn Hall while the Blues got 31 off at Les Binkley.

Phil Esposito scored twice for the Bruins who bombed ex-teammate Bernie Parent and beat Philadelphia. Parent, who made 39 saves, was brilliant during a scoreless first period but Boston broke through with three goals by Tommy Williams, Ken Hodge and rookie Wayne Cashman in the second.

Then Esposito hit twice and Gary Doak and Derek Sanderson once each in the final 20 minutes. Gary Dornhoefer, another ex-Bruin, scored the Flyers' one goal.

New York lost its first game of the season against a West Division team after seven straight victories as rookie goalie Gerry Des Jardins of Los Angeles turned in his first NHL shutout. Des Jardins, in handling 32 shots, handed the Rangers their first whitewash in 59 games.

Lower End Reshuffled In Small College Poll

By The Associated Press

The lower end of The Associated Press Top Ten in small college football underwent some shuffling today, but up front the tune was the same as the first 4½ places remained firm.

The half came up in the No. 5 position in which Tampa broke a deadlock with Weber State with a 22-19 victory last Saturday over Northern Michigan while Weber was dropping to 11th after a 50-42 loss to Idaho.

San Diego, North Dakota State, Chattanooga and New Mexico Highlands held their 1-2-3-4 spots with easy victories, although San Diego had its first place lead cut.

The Aztecs drew 10 of the 16 first-place votes and 266 points, down four top votes and 46 points from last week, despite a 42-12 rout over Fresno State. North Dakota State, with one first-place vote, had 232 points, a drop of 37 but a pick up of nine on San Diego.

Chattanooga, with one first place vote, had 191 points after a 20-6 decision over Tennessee Tech, and New Mexico Highlands had one top vote and 181 points after a 70-7 barrage of Western Colorado.

Eastern Kentucky moved up from seventh to sixth with a 21-20 squeaker over Murray State, and Indiana, Pa., moved from eighth to seventh after bombing California, Pa., 41-0. Western Kentucky rose from 10th to ninth by beating Morehead 24-21.

Texas A&I and Arkansas State joined the Top Ten, A&I jumping from 11th to eighth with a 43-0 victory over Sul Ross, and Arkansas moved from 13th to 10th by blasting Lamar Tech 48-17.

Dropping out with Weber was Morgan State, which had a 31-game winning streak ended with a 7-6 loss to North Carolina A&T and fell from ninth to 14th.

Lenoir Rhyne moved from 18th to 12th and Appalachian from 19th to 13th for the biggest improvement Kings Point and Emory & Henry joined the first 20 at 17th and 18th respectively, while Central Michigan and East Texas State dropped out from 16th and 17th, although East Texas won last Saturday.

Points are awarded for the first 15 picks by a panel of sportswriters and sportscasters throughout the country on the basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.

The top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points:

1.	San Diego State (10)	7-0	266

Stark Carries Alger To Win

Charles Stark of Munising defeated Robert Berger of Manistique in the race for District Judge (Alger-Schoolcraft Dist.) by a total of 3933 to 2636. The returns, although unofficial, include both Alger and Schoolcraft counties.

Schoolcraft County gave Berger 2077 votes to Stark's 1379; in Alger County Berger tallied 559 votes and Stark 2554. Stark, who is resigning as Alger County prosecuting attorney to assume the judgeship, will establish a District Court in both counties which is to replace the Justice Court system. The new court will also assume jurisdiction now assigned to the Circuit Court.

Final totals in the contest between Democrat Robert Leny and Republican York Anderson for Road Commissioner show Leny the victor with 1916 tallied to Anderson's 1652 count.

Marilyn Jean Kelly Stout (D) won top honors with 1769 votes for the State Board of Education followed by Michael B. Deeb (D) with 1667; Robert E. Nederland (D) was first in the county for University of Michigan Regent with 1669 and Gerald R. Dunn (D) was second with 1662. Warren M. Huff and Blanche Martin, both Democrats, led the field in the race for Michigan State University Trustees. Augustus J. Calloway and George Edwards, both Democrats, won first and second for the race for Wayne State University trustee.

Parent-Teacher Meetings Set

Parent conferences have been scheduled at Doyle, Fairview, Germfask, Hiawatha and Lincoln schools next Tuesday and Wednesday as part of the Area Schools observance of National Education Week. Students in these five schools will not attend classes on the afternoon of Nov. 12 or 13 so that their parents may meet with the teachers.

Conferences for the Central elementary and Lakeside School — plus Mrs. Carla McKilligan's room at Fairview — will be held the following week. Students will bring home conference schedule slips and parents are asked to sign and return the slips promptly.

Elementary Supervisor Miss Evelyn Berwin said the conferences are for both parents and hopes that fathers will attend, if possible.

Services Held For Mrs. Cramer

Funeral services were held this morning from the Bowerman-Halifax Funeral Home in Munising for Mrs. Emma Cramer who died Tuesday afternoon in the Munising Hospital. Mrs. Cramer is the mother of Mrs. Clarence W. Peterson, 410 Arbutus Ave.

Burial wil be in Neenah, Wis. on Friday. Mrs. Cramer is survived by three children, including Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Henry Jacobsen, Californit and Frank Svehla of Gladstone.

Church Events

St. Rita's Circle

St. Rita's Circle of St. Francis de Sales Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Alvin Nelson, Range St., for a workbee, making bridge tallies.

Plans were completed for entertaining St. Anne's Altar Society on Tuesday, Nov. 19 and the parish bake sale scheduled for Nov. 22 at the Sears Catalog Store. Next meeting will be the annual Christmas party with gift exchange at the home of Mrs. William Corson with Mrs. O. F. Smits and Mrs. Alfred Olsen assisting hostesses.

Community Presbyterian Church

For Sunday, Nov. 10, the time of the Worship Service will be changed to 7 p.m. This service wil replace the regular 8:30 a.m. Morning Worship. The Rev. Timothy Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newberry, will be the guest preacher.

Church Of The Redeemer (Presbyterian)

Sunday, Nov. 10, will be observed as a special Laymen's Sunday at the Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian. Lay members will be leading in the Morning Worship on this day. Under the title of "Lest We Forget," Elder Marvin Frederickson and Peter Cockram, moderator of the Sr. High Westminster Fellowship, will bring the message for the day. The session extends a particular invitation to all members and friends of the church to attend this service. Members of first and second-year Communicants Classes will meet in a joint session at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 11. Mr. Earl Williamson will be in charge. The annual Praise Service sponsored by the Presbyterian Women's Association will be held at the church on Wednesday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m. An offering will be received for the ministry of United Presbyterian Women. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Predict Romney On Cabinet; WJR

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit radio station WJR stated Wednesday it has learned Michigan Gov. George Romney will join the cabinet of president-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Last February the station reported Romney had decided to withdraw as a presidential candidate in the New Hampshire Republican primary. Romney later announced the move, leaving Nixon as easily the most prominent among the candidates remaining in the race.

The station said Romney will probably become secretary of commerce in the Nixon administration, but said it is possible he would head either the Department of Housing and Urban Development or the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Another prominent Republican governor, Nelson Rockefeller of New York, was also named by the Detroit station as a member of Nixon's cabinet, "either as secretary of state or secretary of defense—most likely the latter," a station spokesman said.

"Another appointment is also secure," WJR reported. "Los Angeles County Distict Atty. Evelle Younger will become the next attorney general."

A breaking and entering at Jim & Jean's grocery store in Gulliver is being investigated by officers of the Michigan State Police. Entry was made by breaking a window on Monday night and a quantity of beer, cigarettes and pennies were reported missing. The grocery store was also entered on Sept. 2.

EARLY "ELECTRICITY"

The Greeks gave amber the name "elektron," since they found that amber, when rubbed briskly, could pick up straws and small bits of paper. This gave man his first knowledge of electricity.

Band To Solicit For Uniforms

Members of the Manistique High School Band will conduct a house-to-house canvass for funds to finance the purchase of new band uniforms. The canvass will begin Friday in both the city and rural areas with uniformed band members making solicitation. A band parent will be in charge of each team of students.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, chairman of the financial drive, said a sample new uniform will be displayed in a downtown store window along with a uniform being currently used by the band. Some of the uniforms the students are wearing are almost 30 years old, Mrs. Johnson added.

A "thermometer" charting the progress of the drive will also be on display with the uniforms. The committee must raise $3,500 of the necessary $7,000 to buy new uniforms. Several donations have already been received from former band members and residents.

Anyone wishing to mail a donation to the committee may address their donation in charge of Gerald Graphos, First National Bank.

Bradley Back In NBA In Familiar Position

NEW YORK (NEA) — The National Basketball season has resumed again and Bill Bradley is there, taking up where he left off last spring: On the bench.

The sprawl is familitr, a white towel stretched across the bony knees and the long fragile fingers laced together across his stomach. Bradley's thin face bore the look of a man waiting to use the telephone.

Life with the New York Knickerbockers had not been pleasant for Bradley. True, there was a little matter of $500,000 he accepted to wear the uniform, but thus far the biggest impression he had made was on the seat of his pants.

Joining the Knicks at mid-season last year after two years at Oxford as a Rhodes scholar, Bradley was naturally expected to plop the NBA on its expanding ear.

At last report, the NBA's ear was still unplopped. "Half a million bucks, my hip bone," Detroit's Happy Hairston scoffed. "He ain't no Oscar and he ain't no Luke. Half a million bucks! Psshh."

Even Bill Bradley has no illusions about Bill Bradley.

"I didn't score well, I didn't rebound well, I didn't handle the ball especially well and I didn't create any situations," he said. "I'm very disappointed in the way I played."

This season, he says, will decide whether Bill Bradley is a professional basketball player. This season, he says, "it's going to be 100 per cent basketball for me."

Back at Princeton, when he was an honor student as well as an All-American, basketball was never 100 per cent for Bradley. He spent more time in the library than he did in the gym.

Not this year. Not last summer. After work, Bradley headed for the athletic club and shot basketballs. "I shot every day and played competitively two or three nights a week," he said.

It should be pointed out, incidentally, that Oxford is not the ideal training grounds for professional basketball.

"You sit there in those white cloistered halls, eating in a cold dining hall on those wet, winter days, huddled with all the other students," Bradley recalled. "Then suddenly you're standing in front of 18,000 people who cheer every time you move your elbow. Yes, it's a little different."

No one cheers Bradley's elbows now. But no one boos them, either.

In Memoriam

Orzel, West and Manske

In loving memory of our beloved sons, Robert Orzel, Robert West and Dale Manske who were suddenly killed 5 years ago November 7, 1963.

Just when your lives were brightest
Just when your years were best
God called you from this world of sorrow,
To a home of eternal rest.
Years roll on and days pass by
But loving memories never die.
Broken is our family circle
Our dear ones have passed away
Passed from earth and earthly darkness
Into bright and perfect day.
But we all must cease to languish
O'er the grave of those we love
Strive to be prepared to meet them
In the better world above.

Sadly Missed by their Parents and Families

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Orzel
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar West
Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Manske

Card of Thanks

Martens

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who expressed their sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Alex Martens. We are especially grateful to Father Conrad Dishow, Mr. Skradski, pallbearers, those who sent cards and flowers, donated food, the Altar Society and anyone who assisted us at this time. The memory of these acts will never be forgotten.

Chandler Talks About Kicking

GREEN BAY (AP) — Don Chandler says there is no feeling like missing field goals.

"The pressure is the biggest problem and this affects every kicker," he said. "Then a field goal is a very critical play because it can make the difference between winning and losing."

Chandler should know. Last season, he hit 19 of 26 field goals and won two games with his toe as Green Bay drove to its third straight National Football League title.

Without Chandler this season, Green Bay has lost two games by three points or less and tied one. And, Packer kickers have made only six of 17 field goal attempts.

Chandler retired this year to devote full time to his real estate business in Tulsa.

What about Chandler coming back?

"I haven't heard a word from the Packers," Chandler said, "and I don't want to put anybody on the spot."

"I don't think it would be fair to the other players if I came back now," he said. "They've been there since the training camp started. I don't want to be a prima donna."

Chandler said he hasn't been doing any kicking.

"It would just be a matter of days to be ready to go again," he said. "I'd talk to them if they called. But I hope they don't. It would put everybody on the spot."

Spartans Figure To Score Points

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State figures it can score on the explosive Indiana football team Saturday, but has fears the Hoosiers will be able to outpoint the Spartans.

No team has less than two touchdowns against Indiana. The visitors still are 5-2 overall and 3-1 won and lost in the Big Ten.

The 21-20; edging of Wisconsin last week was typical of the way Indiana has been salvaging games this season.

This accounts for all the emphasis on defense in the MSU practice sessions this week.

Michigan State now is 4-3 won and lost, with all the losses to Big Ten opponents.

The Spartans can only hope to reach a high point again, as in their 21-17 upset of Notre Dame.

Chilly and wet weather forced the workout indoors to Jenison Fieldhouse Wednesday afternoon.

Don Highsmith was alternating at tailback with Tommy Love, the sophomore regular at the position. Love was held to only 59 yards against Ohio State but still is the leading rusher with his 607 yards net.

Highsmith, a junior, is second in rushing with 215 yards and may see more action in Saturday's game at East Lansing.

ELEANOR CORSARO STRAND
VS.
PURNELL STRAND
SUPERIOR COURT
LITCHFIELD COUNTY
AT LITCHFIELD
October 23, 1968

ORDER OF NOTICE

NOTICE TO PURNELL STRAND UPON THE COMPLAINT of the plaintiff in the above entitled action praying, for reasons therein set forth, and by further reason of an amendment to the complaint granted on October 18, 1968, asking for a divorce on the grounds that on December 1, 1949, the defendant departed from the plaintiff and has been absent from the plaintiff and from this State ever since and for more than seven years, and has not been heard from during said time by the plaintiff or by any other person to her knowledge, came to the above named court on the first Tuesday of May, 1967, and now pending therein, and upon a motion in said action for a subsequent order of notice, it appearing that the residence of the defendant is unknown, and that all reasonable efforts have been made since the institution of said action to ascertain it, and have failed; that notice of the institution of said action was given as required by order of notice heretofore issued, as of record appears; that the defendant apparently has not received notice of the pendency of said action; that notice of the institution of this action most likely to come to his attention is that hereinafter ordered: it is ORDERED, that additional notice of the institution and pendency of said action be given the defendant by some proper officer or indifferent person causing a true and attested copy of this order of notice to be published in the Escanaba Press, a newspaper circulated in Escanaba, Michigan, once a week for two consecutive weeks, commencing on or before Nov. 15, 1968 and that return of such service be made to the above named court.
